

hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 19 Jul 2011 04:33

---

I've been lurking here for a couple of months, and now it's time to introduce myself and share my story. I first would like to express my Hakoras Hatov to Hashem for giving me a second chance, and for leading me to GYE when I needed it most. Also my thanks to all of you here, who through your stories and struggles have inspired me to hang on when times are tough, and to strive to become the person that Hashem really wants me to be.

i apologize if this is a bit long-winded but I am not such a good writer and I have a lot to get off my chest. I also apologize to the mods if i get too graphic and you have to edit. So here goes....

I am in my 40's, what you would call a "working yeshivishe ben torah", grew up in a small frum community, went to the "best" yeshivas, and I am B"H married with a bunch of kids K"AH. That's what everyone sees and thinks..... they don't know about my dark, secret life.

I have been struggling with SSA since my teens. Actually "struggling" is the wrong word, because until recently I was just wallowing in it. B"H I never went as far as doing it with another person, though not from lack of wanting. My natural shyness saved me many times from following through when situations presented themselves. But the looking, the fantasies, the WANTING, and the acting out with myself totally consumed my life and made me miserable even as i was enjoying the momentary pleasures.

I grew up in a small town with very few other boys my age. I am a loner type and very shy and I really didn't have friends. At Bar Mitzva age I was sent out of town to Yeshiva as there was no Yeshiva high school where I lived. I found myself even more isolated there, as most of the other boys had come in groups from larger schools and had their own circles of friends.

I had always "played with myself" even at a very young age. I had no idea what it meant or that it was wrong, just that it felt good. I guess i began using it to soothe myself more and more. At the same time, as my body matured, I found myself fascinated more and more with looking at the other boys how they were developing. I had barely any idea what sex was at that point, and surely did not even know that there was such a thing as homosexuality. I attributed my fascination to "scientific curiosity".

At some point around the age of 15, I did MZ"L for the first time, also out of "curiosity". I cannot even begin to describe the way it was immediately addicting, probably like a first hit of cocaine (I have never done drugs). I am sure all of us here know what I am talking about. before i knew it I was doing it every chance I got, even 2-3 times a day. As I got older I realized that I was fantasizing about the other boys while I did it, and I began to realize that i had a "problem". But I couldn't stop, and there was nobody i felt close enough to talk to. So I went through life walking the walk and talking the talk, while in secret i wallowed in my sick fantasies. I learned, davened and did mitzvos, and most of the time I even believed in it, even as I knew deep inside that it was all a show and I couldn't tell anyone about what was eating me up. I would cry on Yom Kippur, promising to be good, while knowing full well that the Yetzer Hora was waiting right outside the Bais Medrash door and i probably wouldn't make it 12 hours before i did it again.

There were times when I got into situations with friends who i think had similar desires. We would be together alone and we each knew the other one wanted it. Once a friend was telling me about his bodybuilding and wanted me to feel how hard his stomach muscles were. I knew what he really wanted, and he knew that I wanted it too. My hand was literally inches from that first contact with another boy's skin. But I couldn't bring myself to make that final move. I don't know what held me back but i knew that if I took that step there was no going back. I remember literally shaking from the tension and the desire, but I pulled my hand back and said no. For years later I would fantasize about what might have been, what could have happened. Now I look back and am comforted that even at my lowest moments i still had some self control (maybe it was just shyness but it saved me from going all the way over the edge).

I got older and began to date, but my heart wasn't in it and it really didn't go anywhere. I am attracted to women also so that was not a problem. I just couldn't "connect" with anyone.

Then I met my wife. From our first phone call it just "clicked". We got married and have a great relationship and a bunch of kids. I hoped that when i got married my 'problem' would go away. I actually stayed "clean" for almost a whole year, but then i fell right back in. My mistake was that I only stopped doing MZ"L, but would still gaze at every boy I saw, fantasize, and mast***** but without MZ"L. I quickly discovered that there's no halfway, but I could not stop and fell back in. This went on for years, I would stop MZ"L for a few weeks or even a couple of months, and then flop right back into the mud.

Then I discovered the internet! first it was just some pictures, but more recently I found all the "goodies" that are available. Now I had even more material to satisfy my fantasies and cravings. I began to secretly look at g** po** more and more. as time went on i got bolder, even looking at it while my wife was in the next room. (I work in IT so I know how to cover my tracks). She still had no idea.

As I sank deeper into my "alternate reality" I would begin to think and question where I really belong. I felt like I was living a lie (I WAS living a lie, i just wan't sure which one). There were times when I would feel like an outsider waching myself acting in a play, davening, learning, raising my kids to be good Yidden, all the while knowing that i couldn't REALLY believe in it if i was acting the way i was. i began to identify myself in my mind as g*y, wondering if I really belonged in the community where i lived. I wondered if Hashem really knew and cared, if He was really there and didn't want me to be like this why did He play such a nasty trick on me and make me this way....(vlo sosuru....zu haminus). I couldn't take the conflict in my head and wanted out. There were times when i contemplated running away and joining "them", and even considered ending it all....

But Hashem sends the refuah not before the Makkah, but IN the makkah itself. I eventually was compelled to break free...

This past winter I discovered what to me was the most destructive form of porn. Stories. I found a site with literally thousands of stories of boys having relationships. Not just s*x, but friendship and romance. A video is just fun while you see it, and you can only watch it so many times before it gets boring. A story makes you think, and you get emotionally involved with the characters. The stories are serials, with a new chapter added evey few days. I would be checking 10 times a day to see what was new. I found myself getting so caught up in them emotionally that it started to affect my daily life.

I also started to realize that as I was getting older, my fantasies were becoming less likely to be fulfilled, what teenager was going to do anything with a guy old enough to be their father? This just increased my sense of emotional desperation. I realized that I was yearning for the friendships i had never had in my youth, and sexualizing them because I had no proper frame of reference due to my stunted social development. I was turning into an emotional train wreck, and that just made me act out even more.

Then hashem started sending me messages, things that would open up my feelings in ways I had never experienced. For a year or 2 now i have started occasionally davening in another shul, wher they daven with intensity and feeling. I thin my own davening started to improve then, and hashem hears it when it comes from the heart even when we don't deserve it....

There are 2 boys in the shul that I daven in that are extremely close friends for years. One in particular was a big "trigger" for me and i fantasized about him all the time. I always imagined that the 2 of them had "something going" (i hope it's not true, I'd hate for them to suffer like this). This past year they went out of town to separate yeshivas and did not see each other for six months. i was in Shul the shabbos before Pesach when they greeted each other after their long separation. They hugged like brothers, and I burst into tears. I never had a FRIEND like that, that I could hug in public. I never felt more alone then in that moment.

Then over Pesach I had a terrible dream. i dreamt that I had a close friend that I had not seen in many years. he was on his way to meet me , and was killed in a car crash. I woke up sobbing, and could barely make it through davening that morning. I couldn't figure out at the time why i affected me that badly, but it was all the accumulated emotional junk starting to bleed out of me. Then by Birchas Kohanim, where we daven for Hashem to heal our dreamd, i totally broke down. i cried, i'm not even sure what i cried FOR. I just cried in pain. I knew i was a hopeless mess and at that moment, i knew that only Hashem could fix me.

At that moment I felt a calmness and resolve rest upon me. i knew that I must do whatever it takes to bring the two halves of my life together. I realized that i have to do something so shocking to me, that i would be forced to completely change my life. i resolved to "come out" to my wife and tell her everything, and take the consequences as they came. At that point I wasn't even thinking about doing teshuva, just to stop living in secret and to take whichever path presented itself. i was prepared for the ultimate rejection. I don't know where i would have gone or what i would have done if that happened, but i couldnt survive anymore with what had been bottled up inside me for so long.

So that firs Motzoei Shabbos after Pesach, i sat down with my wonderful wife and said "I have something to tell you about myself that i have been hiding from you all these years.....I'm gay.....". Her reaction stunned me; "That's not so bad, we will work on fixing it together". In that instant i knew it would be OK. I shared everything with her, all the desperation, all the filth, all the loneliness, all the hopeless yearning for things that cannot and will not be.

We resolved together to work on making it right. The very first thing we did was to install K9 on every computer in the house. From that moment on I have not MZ"L, I have not mast**** (except one slip recently), and I have not looked at porn (with one exception). I promised that any slips i would tell her immediately, and that I would see a therapist. I began from then on to daven with kavana and with tears, begging Hashem to give me the strength to hold on and continue, and to fight the Yetzer Hora for me because I cannot do it alone.

The first weeks were sheer hell. Just like starting was like a drug, stopping was like a physical withdrawal. i walked around in a daze, shaking from tension. i committed to making an effort not to look and not to fantasize, but it's not that easy. My triggers are EVERYWHERE, in the street, in the store, in shul, at work (don't even mention the mikva). i don't even have a mechitza to hide behind. I constantly have to force myself to look away. i was literally whimpering with the desire for another look, another trigger to release that good feeling in my head. It's a little easier now, but still a constant struggle.

I had finally acknowledged that I am "gay" and i felt totally disconnected from reality. I would play with my kids in the yard and think to myself "What is this gay guy doing here, i don't belong here". My wife quickly set me straight (pun intended) on that one "You are not gay, you are a yid with a strange and powerful yetzer hora and you are finally fighting it!". I eventually realized that rejecting the label was one of the most important steps in recovery.

I also met with a frum therapist who deals with these issues. He helped me to understand how certain issues from my childhood cause the stunted social development that leads to this problem, and gave me some tips how to control and redirect my thoughts away from the dangerous fantasies.

Sometime during that first desperate week, ~~i discovered~~ Hashem led me to GYE. I had seen the ads before, and I always thought it was for a filtering service like JNet or Yeshivanet, which i was subconsciously resisting because i didn't want to lose access to my precious secret world... But then i was on another website, one that often mocks practices of the frum community. They had a post making fun of the GYE handbook (specifically the "rubberband snapping" thing). The post actually had a link back to the GYE handbook, and i was curious so i clicked it. It was like being transported to a new planet. Suddenly i was not alone anymore, there were so many others who were struggling with similar issues AND SUCCEEDING. I spent hours reading the handbook and browsing the forums, and got tremendous chizuk from it. I even discovered that i was not the only SSA addict out there, and that it can be successfully suppressed.

The entire secular culture is obsessed right now with being "Born This Way" and that it can't be changed and you should just "be yourself" and "it gets better" etc. as much as we strive to separate ourselves from the Goyish attitudes it seeps in like a poison and in moments of self-doubt the Yetzer Hora tries to convince us that they are really right. My weapon is to turn the slogans against them and use it to my own advantage. Yes i was "Born This Way", a member of Hashem's Chosen People, tasked with the mission of spreading His light in a world bent on ignoring Him. we each have our own mission and our own fight, and I have been tasked with a special job. I have a special and unique Yetzer Hora to fight, and although I was held captive by the enemy for 30 years, i have now escaped and i am fighting back! With sweat and tears (lots of tears) I try every day to resist the temptations placed in front of my eyes and the fantasies that linger in my mind. Eventually "It Gets Better", when the desires will fade away with time and it will be easier to resist. i know that just like I will have to pay and burn for each time I don't look away fast enough, so too i will receive infinite reward for each time I resist the urge for a second look, and each time i suppress the fantasies that constantly try to creep into my head.

I mentioned before that there was one exception to stopping to look at porn, and that was the stories (i found a way around the filter for those). I just couldn't. I needed that fix of knowing what happens next. For few weeks I unsuccessfully tried to quit, I would manage a day or 2 then I fell in again. I wasn't even interested in the s*x parts, just the storyline and the emotional buildup. But i knew it had to stop. Then one day i told myself "Enough! if you are serious about this there are no halfways anymore!" i went to Maariv that night and it was the 37th day of the Omer. The sefira of Gevura ShebYesod. I realized "that's what we are all about, Gevura, Kovesh es Yitzro, in the midda of Yesod, of self-control". I resolved that that day would be my personal Yom Kippur of sorts. I davened like never before, and promised that I would never go there again. B"H so far I have been successful. Hence my screen name.

I stayed clean until last friday. Then in the shower i suddenly found myself mast*** I stopped before anything worse happened, but i feell like i was teetering on the edge of a cliff. Then on shabbos i had fantasy dreams which i had not had in a long time. When i have these dreams they are so real that i experience every sensation. many times I would wake up wet, this time B"H I did not. but I need to strengthen myself over again. The events of the past week have affected me terribly and have left me emotionally drained, and maybe that's what made me vulnerable and in need of "soothing".

So here I am, trying to stay clean and to clear the bad thoughts from my head. It has its ups and

Once again I would like to thank all of you here on GYE who have shared your stories and your struggles, especially those of you who share my particular "flavor" of addiction. The chizuk i get from seeing how everyone encourages each other to get up and start again really inspired me in my darkest moments. Thank You.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by obormottel - 30 Aug 2011 16:54

---

No opinion on your proposed plan of action, let the real "sickologists" chime in.

But here is what works for me:

Elya talks about this technique somewhere on this forum, if you can't find it, I'll email it to you upon request.

But basicaly, I created a clean positive image in my head based on clean positive memories (boy, did I have to look far and wide, but I got one), and every time that an undesirable image pops into my mind or sight, I immediately bring up this new image and dwell on it in my thought and with my "inner eye", and the bad image seizes to be a trigger. More over it gets covered up with the good and now even in the future I associate it NOT with lust, but with the positive image in my mind.

Stay strong! I remember being triggered by similar things as you in absence of my first choice of heterosexual filth, and it made many situations unbearable. Knowing what you know now, with this forum and all, I think you will be matzliach and very happy with yourself. JJust don't get complacent and take it one day at a time. Oh, and positive reinforcement does wonders for me, too, so pat yoour self on the back each time you have a succesfull aversion.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 30 Aug 2011 17:26

---

obormottel said some wise words.

just want to point out that SilentBattle's thread (www.guardyoureyes.org/forum/index.php?topic=1315.0) is a great resource to see how someone turned his life around in general.

and specifically, among the many good things you'll see there is how he would visualize a script wherein he reacts in a positive way to situations of challenge. similar to what you wrote. he calls it "writing a new script".

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 31 Aug 2011 13:10

---

From Matzav.com this morning

*****

In Kelm: Smile...It's Elul!

In the month of Elul, the yeshiva of Kelm was a very serious place. The trepidation from the upcoming Yom Hadin was in the air. The talmidim walked around with a sense of purpose, lost deep in thoughts of self improvement. So much so that one of the special things they would do was to come to a joint agreement that each person will go out of their way to make sure that they greet others with a smile and happiness. Yes, a smile - that long lost facial expression that would otherwise have no place in Kelm this time of year.

This was typical of Kelm. They took the whole world and flipped it on its head only to turn it back over again. A system of checks and balances of forever improving and then making sure that the improvement was airtight, causing no collateral damage along the way.

Similarly, Rav Yisroel Salanter once related that he met one of the great yirei Shomayim in the bais medrash on Erev Yom Kippur. Rav Yisroel asked him a question, but the man's thoughts were so lost in the upcoming day that he simply did not hear Rav Yisroel and ignored the question. Rav Yisroel thought to himself, "Why am I guilty because he was scared of the Yom Hadin? Gemillus Chasodim demands that he answer me with joy!" (Chaim SheYesh Bahem - Ki Seitzei).

*****

It's the same here, we are all working seriously on improving ourselves, we are literally fighting for our lives as if we are in the ICU. Nevertheless we still smile at and with each other and find ways to cheer each other up. That's what I love about this place!

Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by alexeliezer - 31 Aug 2011 17:36

---

Gevura,

Congrats on 46!

I don't have any strong opinion about your plan. It seems reasonable, since you should be able to look at men without losing it. Maybe you could add a little tfila, like 'please help me see him as a person and nothing more.'

Have a great day!

Alex

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 06 Sep 2011 15:23

---

Day 52....

I've been trying my little "trick" at shul where there are a bunch of people I see every day. It seems to work for the most part. I still know that they are there and just that knowledge is a bit of a distraction, but I can say to myself "Oh him, there's nothing new to see there, why bother". It gets difficult when the worst one, the one I can never take my eyes off of, is pacing back and forth right in front of me, so close that I can see clearly even without my glasses.

Speaking of glasses, I take them off very often during davening, it helps some. But my imagination will still fill in the details. And like everything in this business, the fantasy is so much better than the reality.... ???

It doesn't work as well for random sights in the street. The Wow! factor is too strong there, and it's a much bigger effort to tear away from the triggering thoughts. I am trying though....

I hate wanting this stuff. It has become so much a part of me that I don't know if it will ever go away. All I can do is be happy that I can control myself not to act out, and to try to avoid being triggered as best as I can. I know that getting depressed over it is the worst thing, because then I become all needy and wanting it even more, and then I feel even worse etc..... Sometimes I can actually forget about it completely for a while, then I have a hard time and it all comes crashing back down on me again. Then I start feeling "different" again, detached from the world, like I don't belong.... I know, that's the root of the whole problem in the first place, the loneliness and disconnection. So I try to at least feel good about the times that I win a little fight, and daven to Hashem that the yissurim should be mechaper... OK enough ranting for now :-\

I had another dream the other night, not such a bad one, it was very short. I just dreamed that I started to M***** and I stopped myself right away. It felt so good for those couple of seconds, but I think it felt better afterwards that I stopped. Come to think of it, I should consider this a GOOD dream.....but I hate being teased like that.....it's like the YH is saying "remember what you've been missing, come back and play with me....." GO AWAY!!!!!!!!!!!!

Gotta keep trucking....

Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....
Posted by alexeliezer - 06 Sep 2011 15:45

---

Gevura ShebYesod wrote on 06 Sep 2011 15:23:

I hate wanting this stuff. It has become so much a part of me that I don't know if it will ever go away.

I think that much of it can go away. Especially if you zealously protect your mind from fantasies. It will happen.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....
Posted by mechazek - 07 Sep 2011 12:11

---

gevurah such a real person working on your addiction so consiously thanks for sharing your struggle.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 13 Sep 2011 01:35

---

Finally! got my avatar up!

The secret.....it would not work on any computer I tried, with any browser....but it worked on my phone! (Windows Mobile 6.5, Opera browser). Go figure.....

Time for some serious Monstuh Truckin'!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 13 Sep 2011 15:30

---

mazel tov Gevura!

may you go to good places and help us too

i learn a lot from your striving and efforts

chazak ve'ematz chabibi

wishing you lots of hatzlocha

ZS

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by alexeliezer - 13 Sep 2011 16:32

---

No stoppin' you now!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....
Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 14 Sep 2011 13:41

---

Day 60!

Had another dream last night...this time I m***** all the way.....I woke up breathing hard, I was so sure it was real. It had felt sooooo good. But B"H nothing had happened.

Hashem make it stop, I can't take being teased like this all the time!!!!

*****

Post 250, I made Sr. Member!!!!!!!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....
Posted by alexeliezer - 14 Sep 2011 16:09

---

Your Y"H is starving and choking, so he's taken to fighting dirty. You keep on trucking. He'll never stop completely, but you are weakening him.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....
Posted by gothika - 14 Sep 2011 21:08

---

Gevura ShebYesod wrote on 14 Sep 2011 13:41:

Day 60!

Had another dream last night...this time I m***** all the way.....I woke up breathing hard, I was so sure it was real. It had felt sooooo good. But B"H nothing had happened.

Hashem make it stop, I can't take being teased like this all the time!!!!

*****

Post 250, I made Sr. Member!!!!!!!

Just think of it as a detox process. When a person gets clean of a drug, or even an infection there is a tremendous amount of resistance that is put up by the brain to deal with the withdrawl, its literally withdrawl symptoms that you are experiencing, and they do go away, and soon what will be left is a different type of challenge, but I am confident that these dreams and stuff will go away soon.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....
Posted by bardichev - 14 Sep 2011 21:43

---

pain is fear leaving the body

u.s. marines recruiting t shirt

(seen in monsey ny on some geshmakker yeshiva bochurl)

=====
=====