

hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 19 Jul 2011 04:33

I've been lurking here for a couple of months, and now it's time to introduce myself and share my story. I first would like to express my Hakoras Hatov to Hashem for giving me a second chance, and for leading me to GYE when I needed it most. Also my thanks to all of you here, who through your stories and struggles have inspired me to hang on when times are tough, and to strive to become the person that Hashem really wants me to be.

I apologize if this is a bit long-winded but I am not such a good writer and I have a lot to get off my chest. I also apologize to the mods if I get too graphic and you have to edit. So here goes....

I am in my 40's, what you would call a "working yeshivishe ben torah", grew up in a small frum community, went to the "best" yeshivas, and I am B"H married with a bunch of kids K"AH. That's what everyone sees and thinks..... they don't know about my dark, secret life.

I have been struggling with SSA since my teens. Actually "struggling" is the wrong word, because until recently I was just wallowing in it. B"H I never went as far as doing it with another person, though not from lack of wanting. My natural shyness saved me many times from following through when situations presented themselves. But the looking, the fantasies, the WANTING, and the acting out with myself totally consumed my life and made me miserable even as I was enjoying the momentary pleasures.

I grew up in a small town with very few other boys my age. I am a loner type and very shy and I really didn't have friends. At Bar Mitzva age I was sent out of town to Yeshiva as there was no Yeshiva high school where I lived. I found myself even more isolated there, as most of the other boys had come in groups from larger schools and had their own circles of friends.

I had always "played with myself" even at a very young age. I had no idea what it meant or that it was wrong, just that it felt good. I guess I began using it to soothe myself more and more. At the same time, as my body matured, I found myself fascinated more and more with looking at the other boys how they were developing. I had barely any idea what sex was at that point, and surely did not even know that there was such a thing as homosexuality. I attributed my fascination to "scientific curiosity".

At some point around the age of 15, I did MZ"L for the first time, also out of "curiosity". I cannot even begin to describe the way it was immediately addicting, probably like a first hit of cocaine (I have never done drugs). I am sure all of us here know what I am talking about. before i knew it I was doing it every chance I got, even 2-3 times a day. As I got older I realized that I was fantasizing about the other boys while I did it, and I began to realize that i had a "problem". But I couldn't stop, and there was nobody i felt close enough to talk to. So I went through life walking the walk and talking the talk, while in secret i wallowed in my sick fantasies. I learned, davened and did mitzvos, and most of the time I even believed in it, even as I knew deep inside that it was all a show and I couldn't tell anyone about what was eating me up. I would cry on Yom Kippur, promising to be good, while knowing full well that the Yetzer Hora was waiting right outside the Bais Medrash door and i probably wouldn't make it 12 hours before i did it again.

There were times when I got into situations with friends who i think had similar desires. We would be together alone and we each knew the other one wanted it. Once a friend was telling me about his bodybuilding and wanted me to feel how hard his stomach muscles were. I knew what he really wanted, and he knew that I wanted it too. My hand was literally inches from that first contact with another boy's skin. But I couldn't bring myself to make that final move. I don't know what held me back but i knew that if I took that step there was no going back. I remember literally shaking from the tension and the desire, but I pulled my hand back and said no. For years later I would fantasize about what might have been, what could have happened. Now I look back and am comforted that even at my lowest moments i still had some self control (maybe it was just shyness but it saved me from going all the way over the edge).

I got older and began to date, but my heart wasn't in it and it really didn't go anywhere. I am attracted to women also so that was not a problem. I just couldn't "connect" with anyone.

Then I met my wife. From our first phone call it just "clicked". We got married and have a great relationship and a bunch of kids. I hoped that when i got married my 'problem' would go away. I actually stayed "clean" for almost a whole year, but then i fell right back in. My mistake was that I only stopped doing MZ"L, but would still gaze at every boy I saw, fantasize, and mast but without MZ"L. I quickly discovered that there's no halfway, but I could not stop and fell back in. This went on for years, I would stop MZ"L for a few weeks or even a couple of months, and then flop right back into the mud.

Then I discovered the internet! first it was just some pictures, but more recently I found all the "goodies" that are available. Now I had even more material to satisfy my fantasies and cravings. I began to secretly look at g po more and more. as time went on i got bolder, even looking at it while my wife was in the next room. (I work in IT so I know how to cover my tracks). She still had no idea.

As I sank deeper into my "alternate reality" I would begin to think and question where I really belong. I felt like I was living a lie (I WAS living a lie, i just wan't sure which one). There were times when I would feel like an outsider waching myself acting in a play, davening, learning, raising my kids to be good Yidden, all the while knowing that i couldn't REALLY believe in it if i was acting the way i was. i began to identify myself in my mind as g*y, wondering if I really belonged in the community where i lived. I wondered if Hashem really knew and cared, if He was really there and didn't want me to be like this why did He play such a nasty trick on me and make me this way....(vlo sosuru....zu haminus). I couldn't take the conflict in my head and wanted out. There were times when i contemplated running away and joining "them", and even considered ending it all....

But Hashem sends the refuah not before the Makkah, but IN the makkah itself. I eventually was compelled to break free...

This past winter I discovered what to me was the most destructive form of porn. Stories. I found a site with literally thousands of stories of boys having relationships. Not just s*x, but friendship and romance. A video is just fun while you see it, and you can only watch it so many times before it gets boring. A story makes you think, and you get emotionally involved with the characters. The stories are serials, with a new chapter added evey few days. I would be checking 10 times a day to see what was new. I found myself getting so caught up in them emotionally that it started to affect my daily life.

I also started to realize that as I was getting older, my fantasies were becoming less likely to be fulfilled, what teenager was going to do anything with a guy old enough to be their father? This just increased my sense of emotional desperation. I realized that I was yearning for the friendships i had never had in my youth, and sexualizing them because I had no proper frame of reference due to my stunted social development. I was turning into an emotional train wreck, and that just made me act out even more.

Then hashem started sending me messages, things that would open up my feelings in ways I had never experienced. For a year or 2 now i have started occasionally davening in another shul, wher they daven with intensity and feeling. I thin my own davening started to improve then, and hashem hears it when it comes from the heart even when we don't deserve it....

There are 2 boys in the shul that I daven in that are extremely close friends for years. One in particular was a big "trigger" for me and i fantasized about him all the time. I always imagined that the 2 of them had "something going" (i hope it's not true, I'd hate for them to suffer like this). This past year they went out of town to separate yeshivas and did not see each other for six months. i was in Shul the shabbos before Pesach when they greeted each other after their long separation. They hugged like brothers, and I burst into tears. I never had a FRIEND like that, that I could hug in public. I never felt more alone then in that moment.

Then over Pesach I had a terrible dream. i dreamt that I had a close friend that I had not seen in many years. he was on his way to meet me , and was killed in a car crash. I woke up sobbing, and could barely make it through davening that morning. I couldn't figure out at the time why i affected me that badly, but it was all the accumulated emotional junk starting to bleed out of me. Then by Birchas Kohanim, where we daven for Hashem to heal our dreamd, i totally broke down. i cried, i'm not even sure what i cried FOR. I just cried in pain. I knew i was a hopeless mess and at that moment, i knew that only Hashem could fix me.

At that moment I felt a calmness and resolve rest upon me. i knew that I must do whatever it takes to bring the two halves of my life together. I realized that i have to do something so shocking to me, that i would be forced to completely change my life. i resolved to "come out" to my wife and tell her everything, and take the consequences as they came. At that point I wasn't even thinking about doing teshuva, just to stop living in secret and to take whichever path presented itself. i was prepared for the ultimate rejection. I don't know where i would have gone or what i would have done if that happened, but i couldnt survive anymore with what had been bottled up inside me for so long.

So that firs Motzoei Shabbos after Pesach, i sat down with my wonderful wife and said "I have something to tell you about myself that i have been hiding from you all these years.....I'm gay.....". Her reaction stunned me; "That's not so bad, we will work on fixing it together". In that instant i knew it would be OK. I shared everything with her, all the desperation, all the filth, all the loneliness, all the hopeless yearning for things that cannot and will not be.

We resolved together to work on making it right. The very first thing we did was to install K9 on every computer in the house. From that moment on I have not MZ"L, I have not mast* (except one slip recently), and I have not looked at porn (with one exception). I promised that any slips i would tell her immediately, and that I would see a therapist. I began from then on to daven with kavana and with tears, begging Hashem to give me the strength to hold on and continue, and to fight the Yetzer Hora for me because I cannot do it alone.

The first weeks were sheer hell. Just like starting was like a drug, stopping was like a physical withdrawal. i walked around in a daze, shaking from tension. i committed to making an effort not to look and not to fantasize, but it's not that easy. My triggers are EVERYWHERE, in the street, in the store, in shul, at work (don't even mention the mikva). i don't even have a mechitza to hide behind. I constantly have to force myself to look away. i was literally whimpering with the desire for another look, another trigger to release that good feeling in my head. It's a little easier now, but still a constant struggle.

I had finally acknowledged that I am "gay" and i felt totally disconnected from reality. I would play with my kids in the yard and think to myself "What is this gay guy doing here, i don't belong here". My wife quickly set me straight (pun intended) on that one "You are not gay, you are a yid with a strange and powerful yetzer hora and you are finally fighting it!". I eventually realized that rejecting the label was one of the most important steps in recovery.

I also met with a frum therapist who deals with these issues. He helped me to understand how certain issues from my childhood cause the stunted social development that leads to this problem, and gave me some tips how to control and redirect my thoughts away from the dangerous fantasies.

Sometime during that first desperate week, ~~i discovered~~ Hashem led me to GYE. I had seen the ads before, and I always thought it was for a filtering service like JNet or Yeshivanet, which i was subconsciously resisting because i didn't want to lose access to my precious secret world... But then i was on another website, one that often mocks practices of the frum community. They had a post making fun of the GYE handbook (specifically the "rubberband snapping" thing). The post actually had a link back to the GYE handbook, and i was curious so i clicked it. It was like being transported to a new planet. Suddenly i was not alone anymore, there were so many others who were struggling with similar issues AND SUCCEEDING. I spent hours reading the handbook and browsing the forums, and got tremendous chizuk from it. I even discovered that i was not the only SSA addict out there, and that it can be successfully suppressed.

The entire secular culture is obsessed right now with being "Born This Way" and that it can't be changed and you should just "be yourself" and "it gets better" etc. as much as we strive to separate ourselves from the Goyish attitudes it seeps in like a poison and in moments of self-doubt the Yetzer Hora tries to convince us that they are really right. My weapon is to turn the slogans against them and use it to my own advantage. Yes i was "Born This Way", a member of Hashem's Chosen People, tasked with the mission of spreading His light in a world bent on ignoring Him. we each have our own mission and our own fight, and I have been tasked with a special job. I have a special and unique Yetzer Hora to fight, and although I was held captive by the enemy for 30 years, i have now escaped and i am fighting back! With sweat and tears (lots of tears) I try every day to resist the temptations placed in front of my eyes and the fantasies that linger in my mind. Eventually "It Gets Better", when the desires will fade away with time and it will be easier to resist. i know that just like I will have to pay and burn for each time I don't look away fast enough, so too i will receive infinite reward for each time I resist the urge for a second look, and each time i suppress the fantasies that constantly try to creep into my head.

I mentioned before that there was one exception to stopping to look at porn, and that was the stories (i found a way around the filter for those). I just couldn't. I needed that fix of knowing what happens next. For few weeks I unsuccessfully tried to quit, I would manage a day or 2 then I fell in again. I wasn't even interested in the s*x parts, just the storyline and the emotional buildup. But i knew it had to stop. Then one day i told myself "Enough! if you are serious about this there are no halfways anymore!" i went to Maariv that night and it was the 37th day of the Omer. The sefira of Gevura ShebYesod. I realized "that's what we are all about, Gevura, Kovesh es Yitzro, in the midda of Yesod, of self-control". I resolved that that day would be my personal Yom Kippur of sorts. I davened like never before, and promised that I would never go there again. B"H so far I have been successful. Hence my screen name.

I stayed clean until last friday. Then in the shower i suddenly found myself mast I stopped before anything worse happened, but i feel like i was teetering on the edge of a cliff. Then on shabbos i had fantasy dreams which i had not had in a long time. When i have these dreams they are so real that i experience every sensation. many times I would wake up wet, this time B"H I did not. but I need to strengthen myself over again. The events of the past week have affected me terribly and have left me emotionally drained, and maybe that's what made me vulnerable and in need of "soothing".

So here I am, trying to stay clean and to clear the bad thoughts from my head. It has its ups and

Once again I would like to thank all of you here on GYE who have shared your stories and your struggles, especially those of you who share my particular "flavor" of addiction. The chizuk i get from seeing how everyone encourages each other to get up and start again really inspired me in my darkest moments. Thank You.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....
Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 15 Dec 2011 17:19

Ok so I've been thinking about life and stuff (I think I sometimes do that too much ??? :o). I have been wondering why i feel more lonely now than I did when I was actively acting out. After all, I have all my friends here, although it's only a "cyber" connection you know me better than almost anyone in real life. And I am actively working on being more social IRL. But somehow the emptiness is more real to me too.

I always thought that i somehow was just numb to it before. But I just realized what was really going on. I was never lonely, because I always had my fake fantasy friends with me. Everyone I saw, whether on the internet or in real life, i was imagining having a "connection" and a "relationship" with them through the fantasies that I created about them. What I was really numb to was the real world, i was so focused on the fake one.

But now they are gone, and I am all alone. I am basically starting from scratch, slowly finding my place in a world that i always felt isolated and apart from. It's already working a little, and I feel better than I did a few months ago. But it's definitely going to be a work in progress for a long time.

B"H I have been clean for 150+ days now. But the constant effort of guarding my eyes and my thoughts is draining and exhausting. I can't escape from it, the places where most of you are safe is where i have the hardest time. In Shul, at a Simcha....I'm trapped on the wrong side of the Mechitza. I can't help but to see things, and it's so easy to stare, and to begin to fantasize....

There are only 3 people IRL who know about this side of me. My wife, who has been nothing but supportive and encouraging the whole way. I share almost everything with her, although I have to hold back some of the thoughts and feelings that would make her uncomfortable. She tries to understand what I am going through, but I don't know how much she really "gets it", I doubt many "regular" people can truly understand how "normal" it has become to me to feel what almost all of you see as the most unnatural and strange thoughts. And on top of that, I doubt that many women can really understand how men lust, they are so different in that way. But she really tries, and I have nothing but the utmost appreciation and love for her.

Then there is the therapist who I went to once, and spoke with on the phone a couple of times. He really helped my by validating and explaining a lot of what I had figured out on my own, about how my upbringing and childhood experiences pushed me to develop this way. The guidance he has given me has really helped me work on getting out of my shell and becoming more a part of the real world.

And a couple of weeks ago I finally took a big step that I was trying to work up the guts to do for a while. I contacted a big Adam Gadol, someone who knows me from way back when it all started. I went to see him and I told him everything. He was very sympathetic and I felt that he really understood and cared. He basically said that i am on the right path where i am going now. I need to go back to see him again and discuss certain things with him in more detail, maybe in the future I can share more of what he has to say about it.

But that's it, except for you guys...thanks for letting me kvetch.

Hashem, please keep giving me.....Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Shteeble - 15 Dec 2011 17:46

hear you loud and clear.

the battle is a constant tuffy

To me, it sounds like you are really putting in the hishtadlus.

Keep it up.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 15 Dec 2011 18:12

Gevura, kol hakavod!

wishing you much continued hatzlocha.

ashrecha!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by alexeliezer - 15 Dec 2011 19:05

Gevura,

I'm so happy that you are still here with us after 150 days straight (bad pun 8)

Your commitment to undo and remake yourself is truly rare and remarkable.

Much better to be truly alive, and to deal with whatever pain and discomfort that may mean, than to live an empty, two dimensional false existence, leaping from fix to fix, with no real happiness, and a disappointing olam habah.

We all put on an act, dressed for the part. Every day. That's our job. We do what we can. We act to the best of our abilities. And we strive to make tocho k'baro (our true self match our external life). You are truly living this.

Shteig on!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by gibbor120 - 15 Dec 2011 19:47

Thanks gevurah for your beautiful post. It didn't sound like kvetching to me ????. You seem to be expressing what dov talks about when he says that acting out isn't the problem, sobriety is. (I'm sure you will find that sentiment somewhere if you through the dov quotes.) Once we stop acting out, we are left with emptiness. That's where we need to fill the void with recovery. Being sober makes us uncomfortable enough to really work on recovery.

I agree, making friends and talking honestly with them is the way to go. The more real, the better. Face to face is better than the phone, which is better than email, PM, Posting Here...

You seem to be on the right path. KOMT! HONK HONK!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 26 Dec 2011 15:24

I recently heard a vort on Parshas Vayeishev, explaining why Yosef Hatzaddik (the original one ;D) had to be in prison in Mitzrayim. Basically the point was that it was a test to see if he would regret having withstood the earlier Nisayon. He could have said "I worked so hard to withstand the temptation, and this is what it got me? 12 years in jail? maybe Hashem really wanted me to give in.....".

But that's just the Yetzer Hora speaking. He will do anything to fill you with self-doubt, to regret the good you have done and wish for the "gøøø-bad old days"....

I really needed to hear that.....

And to continue with a theme I have brought up earlier. "Ana Hashem Maltoh Nafshi". Please Hashem, help me escape from my desires.....

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by obormottel - 26 Dec 2011 23:02

Once I stopped acting out, my whole world came crushing on top of my head, with kids, and wife, and being robbed, and my business going bankrupt. So easy to say: "see, if I kept on acting out my lust, none of this would have happened" or "Why is Hashem doing this to me, doesn't He appreciate my effort?"

I think I realized that my acting out was a cover for everything else that was wrong in my life, so now that the lust is gone, all the other crap came floating up to the surface.

So then, this too shall pass...

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by 1daat - 27 Dec 2011 02:37

You are an example to me of taking the tough steps to make honest connections with real people. Your going to see someone you obviously profoundly respect, and letting go of your secrets, is just what I needed to hear. Thanks for sharing that beautiful post. If that's kvetching, please kot

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 27 Dec 2011 03:48

obormottel wrote on 26 Dec 2011 23:02:

Once I stopped acting out, my whole world came crushing on top of my head, with kids, and wife, and being robbed, and my business going bankrupt. So easy to say: "see, if I kept on acting out my lust, none of this would have happened" or "Why is Hashem doing this to me, doesn't He appreciate my effort?"

I think I realized that my acting out was a cover for everything else that was wrong in my life, so now that the lust is gone, all the other crap came floating up to the surface.

So then, this too shall pass...

It will all pass, and in the end all that counts is what we did with the cards we were dealt. The good stuff WILL come, if not in this world then in the next...

Hang in there and KOMT!!!

Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 27 Dec 2011 03:51

1daat wrote on 27 Dec 2011 02:37:

You are an example to me of taking the tough steps to make honest connections with real people. Your going to see someone you obviously profoundly respect, and letting go of your secrets, is just what I needed to hear. Thanks for sharing that beautiful post. If that's kvetching, please kot

Aderaba, reading your thread and seeing how you opened up to your Rov and your relatives, and the amazing conscious and real relationship you have with Hashem, is truly inspiring to me. Keep up the great work, a Refua Sheleima and Hatzlacha in everything!

Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by gibbor120 - 27 Dec 2011 18:56

1daat wrote on 27 Dec 2011 02:37:

If that's kvetching, please kot

You mean KOK ;D

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 04 Jan 2012 16:54

I just came across this site:

<http://torahdec.org/>

I am going to ask Reb Guard to link it on the SSA FAQ page.

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 12 Jan 2012 16:15

Today I made 180 days on the WOH!!

I want to once again express my Hakoras Hatov to:

The Ribono Shel Olam, for giving me a second chance and leading me here.

My wife, without her love and acceptance I would be completely lost.

Rabbeinu Guard, for creating this wonderful community.

Each and every one of you, for being my friend.

May we all be Zoche to Keep On Trucking!

Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by gibbor120 - 12 Jan 2012 16:59

AWESOME! KUTGW and KOT! oh yeah, and KOP (keep on posting) too.

=====
=====