Try removing the [ pre ] and [ /pre ] tags. I think that should work. (had to add spaces into the brackets so it wouldn't interpret it as code)

I got mine from the text file that Guard posted, so I don't know what happened.

WISHING, you sound like an adolescent. I can almost hear your voice crackling. Are you?

Tell us about yourself, buddy, don't be a scruge. Teenagers usually know everything, so you could probably teach us a lesson or two. Also, the more you post, the sooner you'll be a hero member.

Ok, so you're a little older than an adolescent. That's a good start. What else?

How long have you had a problem? Do you have a filter on your computer?

What esle do you do to get better?

Being on this forum all day is surely better than masturbating to internet pornography.

So how long have you been clean?

wishing for the real me,

It seems from your responses that you are guarded and very defensive; I was also when i started posting on this forum. You have to understand and internalize that you are 100 percent completely anonymous and nothing you write on this forum will be held against you. Everyone here on this forum wants to help each other. So share, tell us your complete unbridled story of your life. I promise you it will only help you.

I need to be guarded. I trusted and then was betrayed to many times over.
