

Shalom Aleichem

Posted by NeuroYair - 22 Dec 2011 05:42

I hope everyone is enjoying their Chanuka. I just signed up for the forum and am already very pleased with my decision. Looking forward to sharing and growing together. Hatzlacha rabba and kol tuv to one and all.....

Gibbor, my wife even SIGNED it -gibbor120 on the bottom saying kol ha'omer be'shem
In essence, I'm thanking you....you know that, right?.....

That's hysterical ;D. Now, I really feel published! Soon I'll be seeing it on billboards, bumper stickers, mouse pads (anyone use those anymore?)... Ok, maybe I'm letting it get to my head

My machshavos are always filled with thoughts of lust- especially to JEWISH females. I grew up in high school with a great mashgiach who ingrained in me an aversion to TV, movies, culture, so I only search the internet to find pictures of females, not per say anyone in particular.

Neiro,

You've got the basic two areas to work on -- shmiras eynayim and intrusive, lustful thoughts. They go hand in hand. Shmiras eynayim is largely up to you. The more complete it is, in all settings, including your own wife (at least outside the bedroom), the easier it's going to be.

For the thoughts, you're going to need help from Above.

I had serious problems in this area and it only got worse over the years.

Until I came here and studied the 12 steps. I incorporated the first few steps into a tefilah, and say it as soon as I detect a lustful thought trying to land on my brain. In the beginning I said it dozens of times a day. Eventually, combined with the shmiras eynayim, the thoughts started to knock less frequently. This includes, by the way, lustful daydreams about your wife. Here's the nusach, alter to suit:

"Ribbono Shel Olam, I am powerless over lust and my life has become unmanageable.

Only You can restore me to sanity.

I turn my life and my lust over to your care and ask you to please heal me from this illness of lust. I don't want to lust, I only want You and a relationship with You and Your Torah, and appropriate attraction to my wife. Take my lust. Please, take my lust

Only when you are ready to give up LUST ITSELF will you truly be free.

Hatzlocha!

Alex

Alex, THAT'S the kind of responses I've been yearning for. Thank you for being honest and sharing your experiences. They will go a long way.

gibbor, gevurah, and everyone else ganging up against me (must have to do with starting with a ;D, in reality she drew a perfect smiley face in a picture frame and then one in one of those clown mirrors that distorts your image. But those billboards were classic.

And about selling them at the zoo, I know I shouldn't be saying this, but I feel like I'd be behind a cage with the animals cause that's how I feel sometimes! :-\

Have a productive day! Thanks for all the love.....

Ganging up on you? Chas Vesholom! :o

Oh well, we did sort of hijack your thread for a little fun :-[.

Sorry....

I was being playful and facetious. I'm the one who should be sorry! ;D

I appreciate your comments tremendously. In fact my wife now wants me to print out your yesdodisdike creation (with even the font portraying the message- Nicely done!!!!) saying it beats her sign. But, I told her it would come more from the heart and mean more seeing her :D

Have a great Shabbos!!

stop talking about your wife so much

it can be painful to some of us singles

;D ;D ;D ;D
