"If I lose, well, at least I've tried."

At Avis we say, "We try harder".

The following is from Wikipedia:

Avis Rent a Car System, LLC is a American car rental company headquartered in Parsippany-Troy Hills Township, New Jersey, United States.[1] Avis, Budget Rent a Car and Budget Truck Rental are all units of Avis Budget Group.

Their corporate motto is "We Try Harder" It was adopted in 1962[4] (during the tenure of Robert Townsend as its CEO) to make a more positive reference of Avis' status as the second largest car rental company in the US, at the expense of its larger competitor The Hertz Corporation.

"Biderech she'adom rotzeh leilech molichin osoh - in the way a person wants to go, they lead him". Why does the Gemara speak always in plural form: "they help him", and "they lead him"? The Maharsha explains that every effort a person makes creates an angel. And when the army of angels gets large enough, it has the power to help one overcome all the obstacles and lead him to where he wants to go!

Things that we cannot do on our own, we turn over to Hashem. He manages quite well. So learn to have a earnest conversation with Him. Explain your matzav, and as they say around here, "Surrender your lust to Hashem". It has worked for many many people, and it will iy"H work for you as well. But whatever is within your power, make sure to do "with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might".

Now...Yes each time I say no I am gaining an angel...very good... But each time I say YES "they" are gaining an angel as well! and he is much more powerful...because its a geshmake YES and a very unhappy no...How should I ever have

A big tzaddik once said, I never saw a whole Malach that was created from an aveira. For when a yid sins, he does it somewhat reluctantly (as you yourself imply). So each bad Malach will be an invalid, missing a limb or two. Therefore your 'good' warriors will definitely win over those 'kalyikehs'.
