

The time has come-to get serious

Posted by Newbi - 09 Jul 2012 04:49

Hi all, I am very new to the whole concept of a forum as I have never used one, so I will need to get used to it. But for now more Important is for to to get proper chizuk so that I can finally stop getting in Hashem way, and HIM to do the fight for me.

I will update this chart with my story as soon as I get this figured out. But until then I ask for some chizuk. I need it all.

Thanks.

Thank you just keep.....

you understood my question perfectly and answered it beautifully.

Overcoming our lust and staying sober is just an obstacle in our way of becoming a true eved hashem a true soldier, and raising true torahdige generations. That is the goal of the bigger picture.

just recapping. It helps me understand and internalize when I make a chazara in a few short words.

Just keep.....
