u don't understand the mussar behind it then.

The vort is that a man has many choices (or "roads")

He can say thanx for the fish or ask to be taught to fish (from teach a man to fish feed him for a lifetime), in our terms, he can say thanx for the specific advice that someone gave or ask for the whole mehalech so that he can really do it for once and for all.

He can stay calm in the face of crisis or rationalize that it's mostly harmless anyway so i'll look "just once".

He can do it later and stay dead so he doesn't have to struggle, or try to win as much as possible even if there's a risk that he'll keep losing and just feel guilty.

He can beebroox and wallow in the flunger (mud) or soar to galaxies.....

Deep stuff, but it isn't kabbalah so i'm not being over lifnei iver. UNLIKE SOME OTHER PEOPLE.

`Twas brillig, and the slithy toves

Did gyre and gimble in the wabe:

All mimsy were the borogoves,

And the mome raths outgrabe.

"Beware the Jabberwock, my son!

The jaws that bite, the claws that catch!

Beware the Jubjub bird, and shun

The frumious Bandersnatch!"

He took his vorpal sword in hand:

Long time the manxome foe he sought --

So rested he by the Tumtum tree,

And stood awhile in thought.

And, as in uffish thought he stood,

The Jabberwock, with eyes of flame,

Came whiffling through the tulgey wood,

And burbled as it came!

One, two! One, two! And through and through

The vorpal blade went snicker-snack!

He left it dead, and with its head

He went galumphing back.

"And, has thou slain the Jabberwock?

Come to my arms, my beamish boy!

O frabjous day! Callooh! Callay!'

He chortled in his joy.

`Twas brillig, and the slithy toves

Did gyre and gimble in the wabe;

All mimsy were the borogoves,

And the mome raths outgrabe.

it's hard for Mr.E to smoke his pipe with all that stuff in it while he simultaneously rides his bike, rolls out wicks for his leichter and chops up scallions for his heimishe-oneg-shabbos-spicy-mexican-herring
