

share your struggle. we all do our best Posted by looking2grow - 16 Apr 2013 20:57

HI EVERYONE!

I'm happy that I could join this group, and share my struggle hopefully it will help me to go through. and I'll able to help others.

since as a kid I'm struggling, starting with getting hold of magazine and looking on improper I'm struggling not to look and not to thing. right now I had lost my job, sometimes I could sit a whole morning on the internet searching on not right website.

I need help, and chizuk, to go through this, I wish I had the control button to able fight it.

Welcome L2G,

Please stick around and you'll surely find much help and chizzuk at GYE. As for the 'control button', sorry but that's in Hashem's hand. We need to do our best and He'll do the rest. And the great news is that there's nothing He can't handle. We just need to get out of His way and let Him into our lives. So welcome again, and best wishes for a successful journey.

THANKS FOR THE WARM WELCOMING

your right MT, Hashm is the one who gives us the challenge, we have to try our best, and he'll help us with the rest. It feels like driving on the road, and you try to keep the steering-wheel on road but somehow it turns left and right off the path

Was that a deliberate typo? It's a good one anyhow.
