I'm looking for an accountability/chizuk partner I cannot go this alone I've tried and failed too many times,i will not win and I need help is there anyone who would wanna be partners?

i guess we would first go for the 90 day leap and then from there we would see

We can discuss details when we start

You won't regret it! And if it doesn't work out then that's fine too no press

Just think of it as someone to fight alongside with, we won't have to go it alone anymore until we can stand on our own two feet
