Hi! just before YK i stumbled on to this site! it looks quite promising, i have worked a lot on my problems but came to realize that suffering in scilence is the worst, here its not so hard to express onself, so i will try slowly to follow and see what goes on.

(sorry if my spelling is no good i am still looking for the spell checker)

First I would like to thank HASHEM from the depths of my heart for giving me the merit and the will and the full support, to "go for it" and try to work on guarding myself in ALL areas of Kedusha, may he give me the strength to continue growing day by day for eternity.

Thanks to all my good special friends from this holy place, without your support I would of never made it, I was not planning to make a big deal but you guys threw the party so I accept it gracefully.

just a short note, I do not think of myself as clean and recovered, I do still struggle [it has become somewhat easier], I have come to realize that only a power above us can remove the struggles if we want, only Hashem with his ultimate kindness and mercy can help us, and to him we have to pray and ask humbly for all our needs.

I have been posting and reading mainly on the GYE Yiddish forum, however this place [English] has been my start and tremendous help all along the way, may you all merit real sobriety and recovery.

Many are the ways and methods to work by, each to its own, as we call here WW "Whatever Works", all with one and only goal "to become closer to Hashem" and sanctify his holy name in all our endeavors.
