

From tragedy to redemption

Posted by Hashivalisesonyishecho - 08 Jan 2015 10:00

I am a middle aged person, highly talented, but leider unaccomplished. I seem to have some strengths but not the strength and the resolve to do what it takes to use my talents to be what I can be. I have had lot's of tzaros in my life which have gotten the better of me and eventually removed me from my learning and my general Ruchnius success. I was not omed benisoyon. I am ashamed of myself. On the outside I still seem like a basically Choshever person but nobody knows what I really am. When I was a Bochur and a young yungerman, everybody was sure I would turn out to be one of the Gedolim. That hasn't happened(yet). I would never tell anyone of my worst failings, but this failing of me not succeeding to fulfill my potential is known. I guess people may have long ago forgotten what was supposed to become of me but looking at me now they see nothing but an empty wasted soul. I haven't forgotten the original plan and somewhere deep down I still hope Hashem will give me back my neshama. My Boosha is maybe a good thing in a way because it keeps things from getting more out of hand. But it makes it impossible for me to get the support and encouragement that might help me do what I should. Maybe I could get the support here. I am middle aged but my mind knows that it isn't too late. I need my heart to know it too.

Hi Hashiva!!!

Are you accepting Mazel tovs L'koved 90 days?

(or 90 times one day at a time.)

If yes I would like to wish you many many more days of sobriety!!!

Thank you dd. Although I had some slips, I would say that these 90 days were the cleanest I can remember in a long time and I can only attribute it to GYE. I thank all of the chaverim here. I am humbled by the abundant ahavas yisroel that prevails here. I am learning some lessons in caring about other people and in that sense I feel like I am surrounded by giants and I hope that it must be that naturally something rubs off. I wish everyone here hatzlacha in their personal growth and in their relationships and in their preparations for peach and a chag kosher vesameach.

OMG Hashivali is done with the 90 days clean !!

Amazing, I'm so happy for you !

You have to know that your thread is in my opinion one of the most powerfull in term of chizuk, determination and bitoul of your own will to let Hachem manage your life !

I'll continue to follow your progression, but in the wall of honor from now !!

Hashivalisesonyishecho now seriously speaking and in honor of Pesach chag hageula.

Have you ever thought of changing the title of your thread to something like from tragedy to redemption or something like that. "A tragedy of the human condition" is kind of getting outdated. What do you say brother ?

You're right. It's shows a lack of emuna. Hashem hasn't created a tragedy just an opportunity to work and grow and serve him.

I don't know how to change it, but if I'll have a few minutes to figure it out or if anyone can help, the new name should be:

From tragedy to redemption

Go back to your first post and edit it you can change the title there. That will change the title in the thread listing but not on individual posts.

You can also change the title on a new post (like I just did) and all future posts will inherit it until someone changes it again.

Mazel Tov! Continued Hatzlacha, and KOMT!!

I suppose it's good that there should be a zecheh of the old outdated hashkafa. It shows the progress. Like having a hanging Haman is far better than no Haman at all to begin with.

I don't know.

Now, it sounds like a movie: from Rags to Riches, or Beast to Beauty, or Garbage Pile to the Alter's Pyre.

But, if you like it, then go for it!

To me it sounds more like the Haggadah. Meavdus Lcheirus, Meyagon Lesimcha etc.
