

Hello friends

Posted by Gettingcloser - 20 Sep 2015 20:34

I just came here, I'm taking off my coat & hanging it into closet, making myself comfortable here..

Please give me some advice on the minhugim & everything else I need to know about this holy crowd here,

Just 1 question writing & reading in Yiddish is easier for me is there any Yiddish forums?

Do, believe and think what works. Don't let your religious reliefs interfere with your recovery.

As long as we keep talking about our favorite subject everybody's happy

lol woohoo evil dry whistle

Eslaasos, He's referring to the subject of our addiction.

I was replying to an earlier comment in which it was suggested that to view sex as optional is essential to recovery. Waydown disputed that suggestion and partially based his view on his religious beliefs.

I have a wonderful sefer

??? ?????? ??? ????? from Reb Sender Erlanger about this topic I don't know if it's being sold in sfurim stores it's very informative, his approach is not too holy & he takes the today's nisyones in consideration,

Perhaps you mean feeding the ??? ??? is very geshmak?

Excuse my ignorance, but the 2 great sforim you quote are not readily accessible to everyone on this site, and you also don't give exact sources.

When quoting such radical things that are against what our ??? ??? understands, I'd think it reasonable to ask you my friend please to quote here some short excerpts so we can see exactly what those great rabbis have to say

It's a true point that sex is about giving, but I think that a wife wants to see her husband excited & having his needs met,

In marriage in general the husband is the giver, but he has to build up himself to be comfortable with himself & with his sexual needs if not the wife is not going to feel any value in the love he gives her

I've Seen people who used to be addicted to sex & because their shame & guilt & their self doubt they only wanted to please their wives in bedroom without thinking about their own needs

Let's not forget we are human beings & hashem created us with ugly desires & let's face that fact, a human being is a combination of a nefesh habahami & nefesh elokei, we have to feed our internal bahaima...

I'm not sure if you don't understand the meaning of "giving," or the meaning of lust or the meaning of nefesh bahami.

Alex,

"We need to view sex as optional."

Its hard to view sex as optional when its our duty and part of our kesuba to have tashmish. I know I can't mix judiasm into the life of addict but I still believe its part & parcel.

One more pointer, offcially the cathloic church views sex and marraige as optional for priests. We see how good that worked out. (I will not spell out the scandals but hamvin yavin.) Yes we can live our lives without it but...

I told my wife today (after her umpteenth time of not being interested) that I view sex as optional. Do I want it? Yes. Do I need it now? No. Will I mope? I will try my damnest not to.

She liked.

Regarding the obligations of onah - that is if she wants it.
