Here's a great quote

bardichev wrote:

I once hear from the Mashgiach of lake wood R'Mattisyahu salamon .That we are very close to moshiachs day and the Y"H is WIIIIIIIIILD he is dancing his final dance.It is very possible that according to this the Y"H is going against what we may consider standard warfare and took on terroristic guerrilla tactics.

My philosophy has changed in the past 6 weeks I also grappled with emunah questions.Then I said to myself hey bardichev this is atzas hayetzter when I was totally out of control viewing as much ---n as possible did I ask Groiseh emunah questions no I said im shvach ineed this stuff im depressed ill worry about this another time.

Tzaddik fight Y"H back with his own weapons now you are doing good tell him you will tackle the big emunah questions another time .Now do what everyone here recommends break free stay clean post post post post away stay on this site ther are such good people here.

CHAZAAAAAAAAAAAK !!!!! SHTAAAAARK!!!!

41 days!!

going strong b"h im learning so much from this website and the people on it. im starting to read the white book now and im gonna try to call in on one of the phone conferences. i dont consider myself an addict but i think that there is knowledge to be gained even if one isnt one.

looking forward to life!

Good stuff!

Thanks for the update.

How fortunate that you're taking care of this at a young age.

thanks for the chizuk guys it means a lot to me.

45 days! halfway to the (short term) goal! put it in the books unfortunately i realized that the time for the phone conferences dont work with my schedule:(

but im reading the SA books and listening to shiurim. i dont see these talked about much, and i dont know why, but i really enjoyed the series by r'simcha feureman "the choson shmuz you wish you had but never did" (title is self explanatory) im working on my marriage, will post about that some other time.

I thank hashem every day that i found this site so quickly (23 married 3 years acting out for about 2 years) at the rate that i was going who knows what would have happened if not for gye.

just the fact that i was not alone was a huge boost for me, i know that they advertise online but there should really be more awareness about the site. im sure they're working on it but just sayin'

They're always looking for input if anyone has, how to promote the site. I've given them my 2 cents, if you have another, please give them a buzz

KOT!

Hi

There's 5 lectures of his I think on torahmedia.com.

I listened to it too. Great stuff

Sorry I can't check now because it's past the Device Schedule time mentioned in my signature
