

My Teshuvah - I am ready

Posted by RebbiAkiva1 - 05 Nov 2015 06:36

I feel dizzy. The emotional stress of writing about my secret porn addiction is making me feel dizzy. I know this is one of those things that is reaching deep into my subconscious, but through 5 years of hard work in therapy I can be honest with myself and start writing and joining the GYE groups.

I would like to know where I can start writing a journal to share with the community. Can someone help me with that please?

I want to be like Rebbi Akiva who was Echad in all the areas of his life. He was never someone else when he was in different places or before different people, he was always Echad.

I want to break free.

With HaShem's help, I have become aware that there is very strong connection for me between the abuse I suffered as a child, feeling angry, years of loneliness, a desire for lust and ultimately finding comfort and release from stress in porn.

Good luck, and well done for joining, I am new here myself.

I understand the loneliness and the false high of porn.

Welcome! you have come to the right place. we all come here anonymously, and try to somewhat open up and discuss our challenges get and give tips. I would suggest you read the handbook. It would be good if you can tell us more about yourself and your struggle.

Welcome! A journal is a great idea, and writing one for myself was a big stem to where i am today. Don't know where to put one but i'm sure you can just put it here. I would love to read it and see how I can relate to it (abuse, anger, loneliness, desire for lust. and "comfort" in porn all played a big role in why i am here) and how I can be inspired by R Akiva! Anyone who overcomes this and reaches his unique personal shlamus is considered Moshe Rabeinu or R Akiva in his own right.

Reb Zusha was laying on his deathbed surrounded by his disciples. He was crying and no one could comfort him. One student asked his Rebbe, "Why do you cry? You were almost as wise as Moses and as kind as Abraham." Reb Zusha answered, "When I pass from this world and appear before the Heavenly Tribunal, they won't ask me, 'Zusha, why weren't you as wise as Moses or as kind as Abraham,' rather, they will ask me, 'Zusha, why weren't you Zusha?'"
