

any men here relate to me?

Posted by didannotzach - 06 May 2016 10:16

i have a lot of worries and insecurities about my body. specifically about the size of my private part that is used for intimacy. i am a 24 year old bochur and i want to get married but these thoughts are really scaring me and i feel that one of my body parts is small and my friends have it bigger than me and they are lucky and im the loser. and i feel im not adequate and maybe my wife wouldn't appreciate it small. but i want to get married soon. i dont know what to do.

please please any ojne let me know if you have these struggles too?

if yes , i really want to email you or contact you and discuss it and share ideas and tips and help each other.
