

SECOND TRY.

I've been a member of GYE a while back, it helped amazingly, but when i slipped a few times it made me feel so low, that i gave up and haven't even visited GYE for close to a year. My mistake back then was that i should have still been involved with GYE, but i will not be focusing on my past mistakes, rather i am looking towards the future.

Recently i finally got my act together and got all of my devices completely filtered, I am still trying to recover from all of the filth i have exposed myself to, that is why i am back here, to better myself and try to make myself a healthier and a better God fearing man, and i know the one place i can work on myself and have a journey with is GYE.

There is one thing I've learned from GYE is that one should never give up!!

I am looking forward to a new journey with GYE!!

Welcome back.

I'd like to make a suggestion which I hope won't scare you off. It's probably best if you come back under your old username. There are a few reasons for this. The main one being that doing so requires you to take responsibility for your past fall.

If you don't want to then I know how you feel. I just came back a month and a half ago and didn't want to do it under my "real" name either. I opened a new account and started a post but then realized why it was a bad idea and posted as inastruggle.

The decision is in your hands, and you're welcome either way.

KOT!

Hey! Welcome back! I agree with Ina. I have done the same as you by creating a new username. But the next time I fell I decided that no matter how much it hurts to admit defeat- I have realized that it's not defeat and just a working process- and I'm the same guy trying to get better, no matter how many times I may fall. The responsibility thing Ina mentioned I have realized recently as well.

Keep it up. I have made the same mistake of letting go of GYE when I thought I failed. I think that failure is only when you think you failed.

Nope. Didn't know it was easy or I would try it. I think I used to be a candy shop owner.

Just one I've been saving for a long time. But he can have it. Treasure it, friend.
