

HI

Posted by bobgold - 23 Jun 2016 00:20

I was one of the top buchrin in yeshivah , when one day i was bored and i typed the three letter word in the google search engine. and my life change since then. latter on when i got my first cellphone i was in the chatroom were i chated with girls and they sent me pics that i didnt even ask for and didnt even know what it was, as a teenager i was in a home of an older singel guyand must of his movies were in the shelve backwards, when I flipped them over I fliped out ! he ws like " oh you never sow a wommen and showed me a porn movie of a guy that never sow a women naked and his friedns show him one.

the i was hooked onto web chats I loved getting a girl to smile and iv been clean for a while but latly shidducim were not working out and i felt hopeless so I went on kangaroo life and othe website. now im on jewish websites like yitzchak and rivkah jdate. and im trying to stop

Bob the only way we can get ahead in life is by making ammends. It's in the Sexaholics white book

Could you please be more clear what posts were offensive so we can make ammends

he for sure means mine

It's good that you're coming back and taking responsibility for falling, that's the first step. I completely relate to the sentence you wrote about promising yourself it won't happen again. I did that for years until I found gye and learned some tools to use instead of just trying again to just stop.

What has helped you stay clean in the past?

What are you doing now to stay clean?

I'm not sure which posts offended you but I assure you it was unintentional. The guys here like to keep things jokey. A sense of humor is usually very healthy in this struggle.
