Welcome - yeah it is possible
Its possible that your post was very vauge
Its possible to interpret "messing up" in many ways
Its possible you may be an 'addict' like many of us
It is possible in that case you may want to call one of the successful guys on the " Free Lust Trucking " page
Its possible that may be your only post, as others have done - what I call "Kamakazi Posters"
It is possible you're not Japanese

90 days isn't a method of recovery. It doesn't stand on it's own. It's like cream cheese without a bagel. Put some effort into recovery (the bagel) and then the 90 day challenge may help motivate you get through some tough times. That's how I see it at least. Work on recovery, and the 90 days will happen by itself. Focus on the 90 days, and you are likely to be dissapointed.
