Hi I am 16 I come from a chasidish family when I was 11 my most of my class found out about sex through a boy whose mother had told him at 13 I found out about masturbation and from that day I have not been able to go a day without it I have tried multiple times to stop and after a week I fall right back down to make the matter worse I have bad hand writing so my school suggested that my parents by me a iPad which they did and before they let me have it they took it to TAG but as everyone knows (obviously not my parents) that there is always a way around these things so I was exposed to alot of stuff I should not have been I am just hoping that there is someone out here that can help with my masturbation problem

Il said earlier you should speak to someone real.

I will continue this conversation only after that is done.

B'hatzlachah

i have spoken to my masgiach about it

How did it go?

Awesome!

Was he helpful?

If not, there are many others that will be
