I first started to sing when my Mother sat me down and started teaching me Indian classical music from the South – the ‘Carnatic’ school of music. I learnt with her quite mechanically. At that point I was too young to know what I was doing, so I imitated what my Mother would do and then toddled off without thinking about it much.

Hi Amritha.

This is not an advertising hotspot.

Did you land here by accident?

Many of us did because of accidents...
