Hi all,

I am new to GYE, but it appears that I am not alone in this fight against the yetzer hara with regards to this addiction. Even though, my 90 day chart says I completed 1 day, it's actually been 5, BH. I am pleased with the support and the tools given here, and I am confident that with the proper motivations, we will all indeed succeed.

Unfortunately, someone may have to tell my soon to be ex-wife that, but I am confident that I will move on to bigger and better things.

Hi and welcome brother fighter!

Good luck and a lot of Hatzlacha. Staying clean worth every effort you'll make. Every single soldier joining the brotherhood can change the course of the war :]

Stay strong and FIGHT hard!!

Uh, almost forgot to mention. Join the fighters corner on the 90-days forum and keep us updated on your progress!

Welcome. Many of us who are sober have found that what we need to do is focus on what needs to be fixed in ourselves and to focus on that for today. Being concerned with what others need to do or with what great things are ahead for us hasn't helped our sobriety. So the suggestion is focus on you and focus on today. That's what worked for me. It's only after a lot of work and sobriety that I can begin to realize the damage I have caused to others.
