effects of over 4 decades of activities Posted by lev - 03 Dec 2017 19:59

how do you view yourself?

how do you change. its quite ingrained

====

Re: effects of over 4 decades of activities Posted by cordnoy - 03 Dec 2017 21:02

lev wrote on 03 Dec 2017 19:59:

how do you view yourself?

how do you change. its quite ingrained

By workin'....doin' what's right today.

====

Re: effects of over 4 decades of activities Posted by serenity - 03 Dec 2017 21:57

Welcome. Many of us have changed and now live free after decades of acting out; so long as we maintain a program of recovery one day at a time. I look at myself as sick getting better and not evil getting good.

Re: effects of over 4 decades of activities Posted by beezras26 - 04 Dec 2017 00:03

You change by working on a day. then another day. then another. Honestly, the fact that you have made it here to post shows something powerful by itself. it is an inspiration for me to see how you still are trying to grow and heal for the future, as opposed to viewing all the years of the past.

====

====

Re: effects of over 4 decades of activities Posted by Hashem Help Me - 04 Dec 2017 04:03

Welcome. Hang around here and your questions will be answered

Re: effects of over 4 decades of activities Posted by 2nd-chance - 04 Dec 2017 09:29

Good Question. Whatever we could try will already did. What WILL work?

I am an addict, so for me change started, when i started working the 12 steps with a sponsor. I am (only) 55 days sober today but life is settling and falling into place.

I have a very big network of friends i am in touch with. The fellowship is something you cannot imagine before you actually feel it.

Just don't give up there is light out there,

IF

Isaac

====

Re: effects of over 4 decades of activities Posted by mikestruggling - 04 Dec 2017 14:14

Welcome!

Someone just visited our SA group from abroad. He is in his upper 60s. He just started his recovery a couple of months ago.

There's plenty of hope for anyone as long as they're breathing.

Keep posting.

Best of luck!!!!

====