

A struggling bochur

Posted by Shnitzel and kugel - 26 Jun 2018 19:00

Hi, everyone I'm a 21 year old bochur, struggled with masturbation since 14! Went to Yeshivah and bh had no access to technology so it wasn't really a issue then when I got a smartphone 2 years ago the issue started again. Bh I discovered this website 3 weeks ago, then I installed webchaver and iml very careful now with Shmiras ainayim whilst walking in the street, and I've also joined the 90 day challenge and I'm currently 16 days clean! lyh many more day by day with the eibishter's help!

Any other bochurim out there in my boat?

=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by mzl - 31 Oct 2018 16:43

Shnitzel and kugel wrote on 31 Oct 2018 16:33:

Bh day (140+) #2

Someone posted here on the forums just before Rh that during the blowing of the shofar it's a good idea to take a resolution in this area.

I did that and asked the eibishter to help stay clean for an additional 50 days. I had in mind to reach 250 days, 50 more then my goal I made after reaching 90 days which was to hit 200 days. But i guess he took it differently and I ended up staying clean for 140 days, 50 days more then 90, I reached 90 days on erev Rh. Just realized this.

...????? ???"? ????? ??? ????? ??

That's brilliant, thank you.

You have to ask yourself why you didn't request 10,000 days though. It's an important question.

=====
=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 31 Oct 2018 17:08

Shnitzel and kugel wrote on 31 Oct 2018 16:33:

Bh day (140+) #2

Someone posted here on the forums just before Rh that during the blowing of the shofar it's a good idea to take a resolution in this area.

I did that and asked the eibishter to help stay clean for an additional 50 days. I had in mind to reach 250 days, 50 more then my goal I made after reaching 90 days which was to hit 200 days. But i guess he took it differently and I ended up staying clean for 140 days, 50 days more then 90, I reached 90 days on erev Rh. Just realized this.

...????? ????"? ?????? ??? ????? ??

My Rebbi used to say, "Be careful what you Daven for, you might get it".

=====
=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by Schnitzel and kugel - 31 Oct 2018 17:56

mzl wrote on 31 Oct 2018 16:43:

Shnitzel and kugel wrote on 31 Oct 2018 16:33:

Bh day (140+) #2

Someone posted here on the forums just before Rh that during the blowing of the shofar it's a good idea to take a resolution in this area.

I did that and asked the eibishter to help stay clean for an additional 50 days. I had in mind to reach 250 days, 50 more then my goal I made after reaching 90 days which was to hit 200 days. But i guess he took it differently and I ended up staying clean for 140 days, 50 days more then 90, I reached 90 days on erev Rh. Just realized this.

...????? ????"? ?????? ??? ????? ??

That's brilliant, thank you.

You have to ask yourself why you didn't request 10,000 days though. It's an important question.

???? ?????? ?? ?????..

=====

====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by ??? ??? - 01 Nov 2018 01:47

WOW!!!!

That's really a amazing story and really brings out how Hashem is always with us (even if wish we would have seen it on a more positive note)

This is a great story to post in my HASHGACHA PRATIS thread under testimonials section. Can you please do that, because i think it's a huge chizuk when we see (and are ??????) into these types of stories.

sorry dont know how to send links

=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by gyehelp2017 - 01 Nov 2018 14:49

Dear S&K, I think the hasgacha pratis that you saw is a direct outcome of your real honesty, its amazing to watch this kind of honesty on a daily basis.

Talking about being honest, I can tell you personally that your daily posting gives me lots of chizak, and I am sure that many others too, you are really amazing.

Keep it up!!!! ODAAT!

=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by Shnitzel and kugel - 01 Nov 2018 17:55

??? ??? wrote on 01 Nov 2018 01:47:

WOW!!!!

That's really a amazing story and really brings out how Hashem is always with us (even if wish we would have seen it on a more positive note)

This is a great story to post in my HASHGACHA PRATIS thread under testimonials section. Can you please do that, because i think it's a huge chizuk when we see (and are ??????) into these types of stories.

sorry dont know how to send links

Just posted it on your thread.

=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by Shnitzel and kugel - 01 Nov 2018 17:57

gyehelp2017 wrote on 01 Nov 2018 14:49:

Dear S&K, I think the hasgacha pratis that you saw is a direct outcome of your real honesty, its amazing to watch this kind of honesty on a daily basis.

Talking about being honest, I can tell you personally that your daily posting gives me lots of chizak, and I am sure that many others too, you are really amazing.

Keep it up!!!! ODAAT!

Thank you for the chizuk!

Bh day (140+) #3

=====
=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by Shnitzel and kugel - 05 Nov 2018 18:29

Day (140+)7

Just wondering if there's any point in doing the 90 day chart again?

If I've managed to stay clean longer then 90 days, then according to the scientific study I've changed my addiction pattern. If so, even if have fallen after 90 days that doesn't necessarily indicate I'm addicted, so what would be the point of hitting 90 as part of the chart?

and if falling after 90 days does show my bad habbit, then obviously the 90 day challenge didn't achieve it's goal.

Obviously I'm still going to still fight to stay clean, but not necessarily making my goal specifically 90 days.

=====

Re: A struggling bochur
Posted by mzl - 05 Nov 2018 18:40

Shnitzel and kugel wrote on 05 Nov 2018 18:29:

Day (140+)7

Just wondering if there's any point in doing the 90 day chart again?

If I've managed to stay clean longer then 90 days, then according to the scientific study I've changed my addiction pattern. If so, even if have fallen after 90 days that doesn't necessarily indicate I'm addicted, so what would be the point of hitting 90 as part of the chart?

and if falling after 90 days does show my bad habbit, then obviously the 90 day challenge didn't achieve it's goal.

Obviously I'm still going to still fight to stay clean, but not necessarily making my goal specifically 90 days.

Great men think alike ...

=====

Re: A struggling bochur
Posted by i-man - 05 Nov 2018 20:11

Will it help you stay clean ?

That's probably what you need to ask yourself

=====
=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by ??? ??? - 06 Nov 2018 05:42

I have't done 90 yet (at least since i joined the program) but even if logically you may be correct that it may not necessarily work. It's kedai to point out that many have posted here after going hundreds of days there is no magic in 90-although obviously the longer we abstain the weaker the urge/need becomes and there probably is something to the 90 day term-but at the end of the day even if there may noy be a "addiction" and neurological pathways have changed that still wont cancel the habits we have had over many years plus the physical pleasure we receive plus good old ??? ??? which are all working together to make us fall again, so i think overall definitely sticking to the chart adds a HUGE incentive to stay clean/not to have to start over, and as a reminder about how far we've come.Keep up the battle either way!

=====
=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by mzl - 06 Nov 2018 11:08

It is very valid to ask precisely how the 90-day chart helped my particular brain.

As far as I know it can help motivation, perhaps through achievement (I am worth more because I achieved more), perhaps through competition (I am worth more because I won over others,) to defeat a thinking error that something seems too difficult (I did it therefore it can't be too difficult,) or conditioning (like always taking the same route to go to work.) There may be others.

If you already hit 90 and you are thinking about doing it again and you can't think of a reason to use 90 again, it may well be because there is no reason. After you have done it you should have processed precisely how it was helping you.

=====

=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by Hashem Help Me - 06 Nov 2018 13:59

For post 90 days: Using the one day at a time approach along with upcoming goals, be they Chanuka, 100 days, Rosh Chodesh etc was very helpful for me.

=====

=====

Re: A struggling bochur

Posted by Hakolhevel - 06 Nov 2018 14:36

Great points made by hhm and DY I would just like to add a point. Even if you are not using it as a motivation, it's good to keep track just to see how your recovery is going. I personally do nt update every day so as not to get obsessed, but I feel it's important to keep track to see if there are patters. Bezrat hashem the only pattern you should have is staying clean.

Hatzlacha.

=====

=====