

A struggling bochur

Posted by Shnitzel and kugel - 26 Jun 2018 19:00

Hi, everyone I'm a 21 year old bochur, struggled with masturbation since 14! Went to Yeshivah and bh had no access to technology so it wasn't really a issue then when I got a smartphone 2 years ago the issue started again. Bh I discovered this website 3 weeks ago, then I installed webchaver and iml very careful now with Shmiras ainayim whilst walking in the street, and I've also joined the 90 day challenge and I'm currently 16 days clean! lyh many more day by day with the eibishter's help!

Any other bochurim out there in my boat?

My childhood, teenage hood, school... where all perfectly normal (I think?) and the main thing I have to blame is technology and the availability of in appropriate content

I used to think that I was basically healthy but I had a little problem. I finally realized that from preschool I was convinced that God was out to control me, and this produced both my excessively good behavior and my bad rebellious behavior.

The lesson for me was that if I want to see who I really am I have to observe my behavior and my feelings when I'm not acting out and I don't have a support group. That's my true self.

why is it that a person can be perfectly happy with his life and still need to use porn to make themselves feel happy....?

obviously they arent happy and have some underlying issue that isnt being addressed.

in my opinion it has absolutely nothing to do with the fact that is openly available...? if it has then why are just some people attracted to it.... vdal

I think it has to do with why we are good Jews in the first place. It's difficult to honestly face why we do the mitzvos and what we really think about Hashem.

Better not to go there, especially for someone like you on a 800-day streak.

I just realized i hit over 1000 clean days! so honestly since i got married my whole life changed completely and haven't really been lusting/ been around Gye and dont think about this on a daily basis.

i have recently felt though a slight little lusting coming back but nothing big or substantial. i am lucky to have a kosher outlet though BH, I wish everyone much continued luck.

Bochurim/singles reading this as i always said, you guys are extra lucky to be here before you had to come here after marriage. Give it all your got!

A little harsh this post but truth is the truth and it has to be said and understood.

There was never, never will be anyone that struggles with porn and masturbation on a daily basis that is emotionally healthy. There is always an underlying cause to why a person is using porn to feel good or escape. It has nothing to do with sex drive and is never the cause, it has always to do with something deeper.

The reason why its so important to know this is because if anyone reading this wants to put a complete stop to this, after trying so many other things, the only way they will be successful is by identifying the cause. It isnt what you are doing it is why you are doing it.

we all have denial and it can look like many things, part of it is fooling ourselves by saying "hey nothing is wrong, its just a sex drive" . To be blunt, you cant be successful if you dont take care of the underlying cause.

your journey begins by thinking through your life and realizing what made you have the need to use porn as a coping mechanism in that specific period ? And thinking through your current life to when yo use porn more then other days and what happened those days that made you have to use porn more often?

This is just the truth, think it through before you respond.

Hey brother, it is food for thought, and maybe relevant to many of us, but not all. In the 12 step program which is 100% successful for some of us, is there an extensive focus on "why we escape"?

Another point - you have in your signature that you "Joined as a single bochur, Bh broke free (but still on watch) by using the tools on this website, therapy but mainly through getting married"

Does it need revising?

Here's a yes or no question.

A completely emotionally healthy individual (whatever that really means) secluded with unfiltered internet, is it possible for him to fall?

Was Eishes Potiphar only a nisayon for Yosef because he (chalila) wasn't "emotionally healthy"?

Granted that emotional health plays a role, even a great role when it comes to these things.

But to pretend like "emotionally healthy individuals" are immune to taiva is simply wrong.

Indeed ????? ?????????? ?????????? does not differentiate between the "emotionally healthy" and the "emotionally unhealthy."

Rather it is the reality built into the very fabric of Man.

It is true that those struggling with "emotional health" are perhaps predisposed to using arayos as an escape, coping mechanism.

But to say that taava isn't built into the very DNA of a person regardless of their "emotional health" is simply false.

Hi

I would like to add to what YG said

I spoke to a mental health professional today and I told him that I cannot use porn and masterbation as a coping mechanism.

He said for him looking at a naked women in order to calm his stress is okay and masterbating helps him with his stress.

Whether or not with a filtered devise or not, for the "world" out there, people deal with their stress, by doing exactly what we dont.

They are all healthy and lead very healthy lives.

They guy told me that it is not even a drug its normal

So you could be healthy and still fall some times

Now talking as a married man BH

Even if you are married and in a very healthy relationship, things are still stressful in life. Unless you live on a island with nothing around you and have everything you need and you have no worries and everyone in your family is healthy and the list goes on, then maybe you wont turn to shmutz. But if you live in the world, which most of us do, things get stressful. there are deadlines, disciplines, arguments with your spouse (and for the bochurim out there, disagreements do happen between couples some time, its not bliss your whole life).

We are human and we need to work on ways to regulate our pain.

It seems your agreeing with the original post that the use of porn and masterbation is almost always being used as a coping mechanism and isnt coming out of nowhere...

Thats actually something 12 step programs are strongly based on the dact that "The addiction is not the problem its the solution"...

Shmuel, you're correct in that.

However the 12 steps doesn't deal with the core problem head on as our friend Shnitzel was saying “the only way they will be successful is by identifying the cause. It isn't what you are doing it is why you are doing it.”

Even Step 4 “Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves” simply refers to an inventory of our lifestyle and tendencies etc.

It does NOT mean (at least literally) a psychological inventory, nor do they give any guidance to resolve what made you have the need to use porn as a coping mechanism...

That's my understanding, however I haven't tried the steps so don't take my word to the bank on this.

The initial poster, although I disagreed with him, was referrin' only to someone who struggles with porn and masturbation; Yosef was not a struggler and should not be included in this conversation. Eishes Potifar came on to Yosef; that was his nisayon.
