Hi Everyone,

I am 24, single and just finished college. I went to yeshiva for a year after high school and still keep up some learning a bit.

I have been struggling with pornography since 11/12ish and have started my journey to recovery about a year ago with therapy and online support. I started with daily struggles/slips, but have progressed some but still have trouble holding a week of sobriety.

I'm looking forward to GYE mixing things up a bit and helping me reach the next stage of recovery. My longest streak to date is about one month, but that was over 6 months ago.

Thanks,

Dave
