

Wake Sleepy up!

Posted by sleepy - 12 Aug 2019 16:24

Hi everyone! I've been a fan of gye for a long time ,I've decided to join the crew and wake up from my slumber which has been induced on me and us by the decadent society around us. I'm here to give and get chizuk in a Torah sourced way. A Talmid Chacham advised me personally not to do the 12 steps(thats his personal advice to ME,whoever was advised to use it by Daas Torah ,KOL HAKAVOD!) B"H I've had a streak of clean days, and I feel joining such a chashuva chabura will help out. Hatzlacha to all!

i really feel bad writing this, but maybe a toeles will come from this, ive had bad experience with reading dovs quotes,notes.and i said no more reading his things, well last night i gave it another try for almost an hour going through his posts , and unfortunately i came out of it with the same decision,dov is not for me , i gave it a try.simply said ,its not for me, and i am jealous of those who have been touched by dov and whose lives have been turned around,he no speaka my language or i dont speak his. maybe someone here could , untwist my brain or something.but as of now , the track that i was going on is what ill have to humbly travel on ,and Hashem ya'azor

No need to be jealous.

I can assure you that Dov is not on his high horse and is perfectly fine with whatever is thrown at him.

It was just too general what you wrote.

Mind to share 1 or 2 things that Dov says, which don't sit well with you?

who said hes jealous? maybe hes just frustrated? or maybe he does seek to give voice to those that dont want to accept what dov says because it doesnt sit well with them either? he didnt accuse dov of sitting on a high horse and i dont know why thats necessary to bring up.

your point about bringing something that dov says as an example is valid but there are many reasons why a poster wouldnt want to share on a forum including but not limited to if the objection is not what dov says but his tone-thats clearly subjective and could be hes not comfortable sharing that. there can be other reasons, too. maybe some can involve what could be interpreted as lashon hara. im not assuming im just putting that out there.

in general, although humor is helpful, i dont think gyes forums are about "throwing things" at anyone. its about seeking support and getting help (at least a proper address).

just my thoughts

hi, first time today that i had a chance to get to an internet kiosk,,i gotta run but i want to thank all who have responded to my post ,ill have to reply later IYH,i just want to say

1.nobody on gye knows me

2. i dont think highers tone was loud(maybe my volume setting is low)

3.higher happens to hit upon some points why i didnt give examples of dovs writings ,but maybe i will try to make an effort maybe later as far as being jealous , ive suffered from jealousy as a bachur when other guys got "the Reb Chaim" and i didnt, and i sure am jealous of people who have someone to make a difference in their lives but im unable to access that source due,probably to my limited mental capacity .i do have other people who are making a difference in my life ,but i guess im being greedy and want to be inspired by dov too, but am not able to. gotta go hatzlacha

When I first started with GYE 4 years ago I was so mad at Dov, he was high on my resentment list.

At this point I do gain a lot from him, but there's still plenty I don't get, but it's all OK. We're all just trying our best to do the right thing.

frustrated IS the word to describe how i felt after researching an hour long study of dovs writings and not getting anything tangible from it either due to lack of iq or due to different derech.

What's the big deal - You could like Dov's posts or you could Dislike Dov's posts , I for one like them and no I dont necessarily follow his mehalech, but its undeniable that he has helped a lot of guys here in a very real way ,so let people be farkoified no one is forcing anything on anyone else (i know I know sometimes they may give a strong suggestion dont take it to heart) exactly! that is why i was feeling guilty to post ,and that was the purpose of my post, hoping someone can change my mindset and get me to join the bandwagon of his followers,but its not going to happen.

(i know I know sometimes they may give a strong suggestion dont take it to heart) another great point ,there are things that are strong suggestions of certain things and could be damaging to me.

im assuming this is a nice humble way of saying things. (the bolded words at the end).

i think its worthy of pointing out that...

1. dov is not G-D. (please, dont shoot! btw i think dov would agree to this!)
2. it is possible that he can be wrong, (again, dont shoot!)
3. and its possible that he can be wrong for a specific individual.

even if hes very smart and has helped many people.

no one is obligated to follow anyones advice here in any way. it still pays to listen to people, especially smart people and especially if they have experience with a good track record. but there is alot more than that in terms of deciding if something is right for YOU.

i think much of what i said has been alluded to i still feel that for some there is an importance in spelling this out.

This is possible, and that is possible...

Life abounds with many possibilities...

No one has to buy any Dov Soap megilla's if they don't want to due to lack of iq or due to different derech.

What you were saying "How does one know what is right for "You"?"

Here on gye I believe the 1st reality is getting sober 90 days plus.

Although don't credit myself at all for having a substantial clean streak - it's Thank Gd!

After you hit that Mark (softly please), and discover what DOES work for you, I'd love to hear your take.

Please let's keep the positivity rocking that is also possible...

although i have discussed with some people on gye who disagree with that theory.

I'm referring to the idea of sharing what works for me or if I like Dov or Meds or Chinese food.

I believe a person should hold off opinions on these so long as one is in the tunnel trying to break free... and doesn't really know which is good for him...

btw I wish you'd not waste your time on Karl Marx quotes and do something better like take the most radical Dov post, paste it here and break it apart.... That would be fun

How about start with this Dov post, and hey he even mentioned your name...

Dov wrote on 18 Jan 2012 04:54:

1- For this guy it's 'healthy' - it is good for him and his life, he says.

2- For this guy it is evil, a real problem because it's assur.

3- For another guy it is too bad, but a freebie because he is an adidct.

Gevalt, is this a buffet?

I thought people were coming here to get a problem solved, not to write a new hagadah shel pesach.

This is all dumb philosophizing. Truth is beyond us, and when it is before us, we do not listen anyhow, so it's irrelevant. What is relevant is what is this doing to me and why we take a vacation from it - yet always predictably come back to the porn, the unzipping the pants, and the masturbating ourselves. It is pathetic, but nu - is it a problem for you, or for me, or is it not? That is the only question. Do you want to stop? Not does the Torah want to stop - you won't listen just as you never have! But just like all the many goyim I know is sexual recovery from porn and masturbation: do they want to stop - do you? It is the only question. And no one can make your mind up for you. Either you are finished, had enough fake sex and orgasms...or you want some more.

The door to recovery is open. But it takes a motivation that cannot be supplied by anyone, even G-d. Ein hadovor tolui ella bee. That is not referring to stopping - just to quitting, giving it up for now, for today.

Too sleepy gotta go, head spinning from medication now, good night, chabibi,

Though you often sound like one who just wants excuses to porn out better, I still Love you a lot,

- Dov
