

Hopeful

Posted by Taiyvah4Mitzvos - 12 Jul 2020 06:28

Hi there I'm new here and I'm very happy that a community like this exists. After being 2 years clean from my 7 year long marijuana addiction I feel confident I can apply the things I've learnt toward this one. I'm aware that the beginning is the hardest from personal experience and have some understanding of how addiction hijacks your perception of reality and logical thought process. Admittance (Awareness/Acknowledgement) is the first and perhaps the biggest step. Hatzlacha to everyone! Here's a link to my 90 day thread;
