

Make it to Yeshiva

Posted by YeshivaGuy - 04 Aug 2020 05:33

Hi everyone,

First I want to say that I am humbled and honored to be in the presence of such Giborei Koach, true warriors of Hakadosh Baruch Hu.

I bh am not addicted to pornography.

I haven't been on a porn website.

But I'm getting close, and I'm here to gain chizuk not to fall into it.

Once I return to Yeshiva I'm safe, but as long as I'm home I'm in danger, and bh I haven't fallen into pornography. However it's the next step, chalila.

I bh am running a camp, so I started keeping busy, so bh have only been nichshal once in the last 3 weeks.

i want to just express my gratitude to all of you, and my great admiration for each and every one of you.

My Yetzer tries telling me "comon, porn can't be that bad, it's just the word that sounds scary" or like "it can't be so different than YouTube videos"

So I'm here to gain that chizuk.

thank you!

Had some feelings of emptiness, questioning the life I've chosen...

But it's prob cuz I've been out of Yeshiva.

YeshivaGuy

Read through your thread. I think it will be crystal clear that you've indeed chosen the right path. I know if I were having doubts I would read your thread. Anything that can cause a person to be motivated to accomplish what you have, is pure unadulterated truth.

A lot of taiva right now.

Currently in bathroom and just finished up...

Ill pull up my pants and leave...(sorry if too graphic)

Was thinking of a girl who really liked me in highschool.

She was "famous" for being very pretty.

I turned her down though. Was so so painful.

And now I'm feeling regrets...

I still remember her number from when she offered it to me 6 years ago...

Just texted her now to see hows she's been.

But times have changed. 6 years later, she's not interested in me.

Im a Yeshiva Guy now. I don't compare to the guys in her secular college.

Kinda hurts, I'm feeling regret for "missed opportunities"- y'all have no idea what I could've done so so so many times.

Somehow I managed, to never have a girlfriend, and to never touch a girl for hanaa.

People thought I wasn't interested, but I was.

I wish I had the gevura now that I used to have.

There are stories, so so many stories of super insane nisyonos I've had, from a young age, and somehow overcame..

Maybe one day I'll post some for chizuk for the chevra, though it would be hard to avoid triggers, so maybe not.

Its been so difficult my whole life, and somehow I overcame them.

And now that I'm past all those, I feel regret...

I do really hope my wife one day, bezras Hashem, will be proud of me.

And HaShem too.

Thanks for hearing me out,

YeshivaGuy

If I was given right now the choice of getting a personal bracha from the gadol hador or being a tiny part of your indescribable zechusim, the latter would be a no brainer....

P.S. Read the amazing "resonate" thread by "Starting." Those quotes never fail...

And I hope you are proud of you!

Of course Hashem is, and so will your future wife be although she might not be "proud" she will surely appreciate what a true ben aliyah you are. She or anyone else for that matter doesn't have to know every time you overcame a challenge to see that you are a special person. Someone who is such a true eved ne'eman like yourself, can be seen from a mile away.

It's not just about what you give up, it's about what you become by giving those things up and you have become a true gadol.

Keep inspiring us!

Ok Rabboisai,we're one family.

So here's the truth:

My chavrusa thinks I just learnt with him a daf Gemara Rashi Tosfos.

But really, I was dreaming of getting ahold of a hookup app and hooking up with a girl.

Im still "gripped" by the Yetzer, as in, Tov and Ra remain blurred...

But my mind tells me to post this struggle here.

As well, the whole Seder I had a burning taiva to just touch my pants by the "ever" for hanaa.
AAAAHHH!!!!

Bh won though.

I just kept my head in the Gemara and got what I could.

My Avoda, I think, was just to make it through

Moreinu R Yeshiva Guy,

You did learn a Blatt Gemara w/Rashi and Tosafos.. Yes,you had hirhurim while you learned it,but that doesn't take the Torah away!

I would like to sincerely apologize if my posting in my forum triggered this issue in any way. Please realize that you are way above the chevra on those sites.Hearing a Gibor Koach like you talk like this sounds like me discussing with my friend regarding joining some drunks in the street for a beer. Is it possible I may enjoy the beer? Maybe? But its just not worth laying on the ground where it reeks with all the dirty drunks.

You are amazing and realize that we count on you for Chizuk.

Keep it up!
