This is my first time using gye as well as posting anything. I just need chizuk to begin. I'm in my mid 20s and married. bh I don't struggle the way i used to partly because I'm married now and also because I have my own devices now so I can be on top of the filtering and make sure that its good. I just at times find it still challenging. Also I first started probably over 10 years ago with no filter at all an I'm scared to fall back into that. please I just need some chizuk now especially because the world is so unforgiving about this at face value. Thank you

ps I'm just starting and don't know yet how often I will be able to check my inbox so don't be turned off if I don't respond right away
