

i'm finally posting

Posted by Horizon - 30 Mar 2023 20:24

i wroth this up yesterday but for some reason it didn't post. sitting down to rewrite it now.

hi everyone! my name is horizon i'm a 23 yo yeshiva bochur. i created my account about a year ago, but haven't been active until about a week ago. in the little time i'm here iv'e met some wonderful chevra, and was encouraged to write about myself. i hope it will takeh help me, specifically w meeting and connecting with the chevra. although my 'story' is as cookie cutter typical as they get, i'm still sharing. partially to unload, but mainly to make connections with . here we go...

i grew up in a typical frum yeshivish home. my father is a respected rebbi, and my mother teaches in the local school. although my parents are good people, i never connected w them or felt understood. emotions were also pretty much nonexistent in our home. my father is very reserved and cold, and my mother was always a hard woker, and expected the same from us. (recently my siblings and i started discussing how this affected us. bh i have a pretty nice relationship w my siblings) from quite a young age (probably like 10) i had a sexual rush. but i'd rather not elaborate on that. when i was 13 years old i went off to an out of town yeshiva ketana. although it was a nice yeshiva, and the chevra were nice, i had a hard time fitting in cuz i was a year younger then the class. i kinda felt like i don't belong and also had to prove myself. i was also embarrassed to share my age with orhers. it was a tough matzav.

others. so if you came for chidushim, i'm sorry to let you down. during the first year in yeshiva i started to become a very 'erlnste bochur'. taking davening seriously, waking up early to learn, i would get upset when guys were sitting around and chilling or talking loшон hara... you get the pic. it was kind of a distraction from social life which i wasn't very good at.

the next year i went the other direction. i started sleeping in, chavering zich with the more chilled guys in yeshiva, and being in beis medrash less.

one day i came across a store not far from yeshiva that sold (drumroll please) adult magazines. i took one. (i don't want to say stole). i was utterly shocked by what i saw. i was a naive sheltered boy, who didn't dream there was such a thing as women exposing themselves. i didn't either know about sex. that magazine really changed me (one of my rebbeim at the time pointed out that he sees i changed). it was at that point that a started to m* (i hate the word, so a * will have to suffice). over the next two years i only took another two or three magazines, and occasionally when i'd be home i'd watch porn.

when i was 17 i went to eretz yisroel for the summer. seeing the attitude they have in israel towards the internet had a big effect on me, and it caused me to make strong gedarim for myself. i was clean from porn and m* for 3 years (!)

after that the YH creapt in in the most ingenious of ways. i decided to be a ka'nu'ee and check to make sure our family's computer was kosher. it was not.

about a year ago i came across gye, and was convinced it was the end of my struggles. i now had a place to keep myself in track by using the success tracker and i'll live happily ever after. i was clean for 8 days.

i recently gave up my access to porn, and now have a phone that is really restricted (no really). bh it was a HUGE gamechanger. iv'e wanted to do it for the longest time but it was very hard. and that first night without it was very, hard. but surprisingly in the days since i was very much ok and didn't feel like i'm missing much. (although i'll admit that it gets annoying sometimes heving restricted access).

i'm gonna try for the future to be more involved in this community, and hopefully i'll meet some nice chevra:)

wishing everyone continued hatzlacha in everything,

hope all goes well, and you have clarity to make the right decisions.

from the posts of yours that i've read and from the way you keep up the fight it seems you're a good guy, and whoever the right one is will be very lucky.

today was day 3 bh

last week was rough. i fell after a good two weeks and then couldnt get up. i just stayed down there straight. it was a prolonged day 1. also i fell harder then i have in the recent past, the last couple times i 'relapsed' it was quickly, with kinda borderline stuff, and then i put away the device. this time however i was online for like 3 days straight, and got into the youtube rabbit hole again. in a way i find it harder to let go of youtube then to let go of porn. (only in a way lol).

here's the good news: i fell using a device that belongs to a sibling of mine but they dont use it, so it just sits around the house collecting dust. when i gave up my smartphone i made it my business to get the passcode to that device, and since then i pored w it a couple times. now with some gentle pushing of a couple wonderful guys over here, i knew what i have to do. this sibling was here today, and i used the opportunity to tell them that i've been using their device, and i dont want to. i asked them to please change the password to something i wont guess. i was scared to do that, but it went along surprisingly easy. im glad i did it. its gonna be so much easier for me now. we daven every day ?? ?????? ?????? ??????. im glad i got potur of such a big part of the nisayon.

(on that last point, i was recently thinking in such terms: there's a wad of cash on the shelf in my room. is the cleaning lady gonna take? nah. she's religious, has morals and besides, she wouldnt risk loosing her job. but i shouldnt make her go through that thought process every time she enters my room.)

thanks a whole bunch to the choshuve chevra that reached out to me, some that i've shmoozed w in the past and some that heard a yid calling for help and answered the call. i cant say if i would have the courage to do this without you.

Good move - that takes courage!

why not get rid of the device completely? Just say you don't want to have it around and under your responsibility.

also not sure if you're serious about cleaning lady or it's a parable but I'd hide that cash better if I were you. The crusaders were also extremely religious and look where that got us....

not having the code is practically like getting rid of it. im not tech savvy (bh?), and the only way i can get the code is by asking for it. which would be kinda awkward at this point.

point noted. i'll put away the money:)
