

Thompson, with a 'P', as in psychology
Posted by thompson - 01 Jul 2024 18:22

Hello, dear brothers, fighting the good fight.

I'm Thompson, and I come in peace - I don't bite.

I've tried many times to quit, and every time fell flat on my face prematurely.

By now, many porn sites have my email address stored (hopefully) securely.

So I figured, what harm can it do if I attempt to kick this via another anonymous online account -

Resembling the others - all of which only in an incognito window do I mount.

I'm now on day three in my quest toward a clean life,

I pray to our heavenly father that this time, I should get there without much strife.

Amen

I'm sorry for your pain but you totally made my day.

Anyway, Welcome!

You're in the right place. Stick around, post, work hard and prosper.

Check out some of the excellent resources on the site including: The F2F program, the excellent book the Battle of the Generation, and most importantly, the chevra. (Normally I put in links but your intro is still blowing my mind, sorry. . .) Get to know the guys, share, and connect honestly with other fighters.

Hatzlacha!

Side point: you are very right about "just one more incognito website open." That's how most people start off. I wrote awhile back that I hide GYE just as religiously as I hide my porn use. That changes as you heal.

As you honestly open up, to yourself, to Hashem, to others, you stop hiding. (That doesn't mean putting your username on your tallis bag. Doesn't necessarily even mean telling anyone. Just the attitude changes from "part of my dirty little secret" to "unhelpful for others to know, but not something I'm ashamed of.")

Thank you @chosemyschem for the warm welcome. You need not to be sorry for my pain, unless you're the one responsible. If that's the case, we have bigger problems.

I found the daily check-in prompt a bit odd.

Question 1: Did you have any urges?

No.

Question 1: Did you have any falls?

If I didn't have urges, when would the fall happen?

But as long as the answer to the second was "no" I don't mind some weirdety (that's gotta be a word).

I'm feelin good about this.

Welcome, Thompson with a "P"!

Your playful gripe about the daily prompt got me thinking a little, maybe a bit painful to acknowledge...But I think I can unfortunately relate to the phenomenon of falling without an urge.

The kind of falls that come out of left field. I was feeling fine, didn't lust during the day, not aware of anything bothering me, (at least, consciously) And the next thing I know....BOOM! Pored and masterbated, yes, without any cravings/fantasies all day/urges.

Anyway.

Welcome aboard, I wish you much success on your journey!

Now that you mention it, I've had that happen to me a time or 471 too.

So I can't gripe about that anymore. I'll be on the lookout for other annoyances.

The other low hanging fruit would be the "urge scale" prompt, from 1-10. I've found myself staring rather blankly at that one, many a time...

As a true Thompson, I make myself very at home wherever I go. I like to blend in with the local population.

Ah, so you're Thomsom without a "P" and with an extra "M"? Nice to meet my long lost triplet.

I was really hoping to get to know some men. Am I on the wrong forum? Is this the day camp? I guess I can be the counselor.

Thanks, everyone, for the welcome and the warmth. So far, I've only encountered, what seems to be, awesome people - on my thread, that is.
