Shalom Brother,

Might I inquire as the reason behind your looking for a partner with those specific criteria?

Yes ofc,i feel with someone in the beginning of the recovery process, we can learn and grow together more effectivley and also connect on a very personal level.

Have you tried with a mentor? You can request one through GYE.

While there may be advantages to going through this along with someone similar whom you relate to, there are also serious risks involved.

Stay safe.

Kol hakavod. That's a big step to open up about your struggles.

Did you discuss this idea with your mentors?
