

My crazy adventure

Posted by freekoala73 - 03 Dec 2024 22:41

Hey

Im a regular baalabatish FFB guy and the more shocking is my story. Of course I always had a string yetzer hora and I always lived on the edge. While doing well in yeshiva high-school, being a good bucher in yeshiva etc I always had "a dark side" - went to party, tried to get to girls etc. Long story short; got married, had kids, successful in business, buying houses, doing well socially and from the outside all is awesome.

I always had some kedusha problems, occasionally z"l, with or without porn but no addiction.

Then, randomly, I met a girl. Torally innocent, she lived nect to my office, we had a smoke and we exchanged numbers, had friendly talks, she came to watch a movie in my office and we developed a super long affair of about 8 years. We were on and off, she moved to another place, she had another relationship etc. My wife mever found out. We traveled together all the time and we had a crazy emotional and sexual bond. Sexually more than i ever had with my wife. If course there were so many phases i blamed myself, felt so guilty, looked for help, broke off. And it started over. And so many more times.

of course this led to crazy lust when i didnt have tthate"outlet".

whenever i struggle in business i figure that hashem punishes me for that. And I managed to throw her out BH.

With all the stress I very iften only fall asleep masturbating. I manage without too, but its always a struggle.

Im always onbthe edge, like to look for girls but dint really do anything. I started kpilel boker 2 years ago which changes my routine and helps.

Still GYE will help me, it alreay6helps that you're listening. And i will IYH report on my successes.

Welcome brother to our family. Even on a anonymous forum, it's brave of you to open up like that. I can only echo what the others have said Reach out to HHM and to Vehkom. Both of them are ?????? in human form, and will help you turn your life around. Once you speak to them try reaching out to a few of the regular special guys that are here. This road is best traveled with friends holding hands. Hatzlacha!

You ABSOLUTELY CAN do it. Its been done before. By many many people.

Reach out to some of the good people here, maybe get an accountability partner for when you travel. (AND REACH OUT TO VEKAM!!)

An accountability partner has helped hundreds if not thousands of people get started on the way towards recovery.

Reach out to Hashem Help Me.

That can be the first gigantic step to reclaiming your life to be the life you always wanted it to be.

Go for it . (before shabbos)

@freekoala

One thing I deduce from your posts is that you are addicted to adrenaline and the thrill of illicit activity.

I think you should get some sort of addiction counselling.

And some way of adding healthy positive and enjoyable activities into your daily life, to replace the thrill seeking.

Dear All

Thank you so much for all your heartfelt messages. Although I wasn't so active on here, you guys gave me a lot of strength. Let me update you :-)

While I had a couple of days where I was really frustrated and failed with M I do think I'm making progress. No P at all and managed to avoid falling back in the patterns of physical meetings.

Colincolin - you're very right, it's some sort of adrenalin / addiction and I'd like to get some therapy for that.

Once again thank you so much to all!!!!

Dear All

I am thanking Hashem for giving me the powers to overcome a few Nisyonos over the last days.

Basically over time I made a good "friend" - I never had any sexual relations with her, but we were close and it always gave me a kick. She saw me as a real friend and invited me to her birthday party - I told her that I'm breaking up any relations to her.

I also had a similar girl and completely ignore her.

Further, I havent watched P for a long time.

Slowly, I start to get out of it and see Yad Hashem in helping me and sending success in other, more important things, my way.

Clearly, the more you're able to avoid and overcome the Yetzer Hara, Hashem helps you in other ways. Maybe this is a motivational story for some of you - keep strong!!!!
