

3 year struggle

Posted by yolk - 30 Mar 2025 14:49

Ive been struggling with PandM for 3 years now. Thank god I'm over hardcore photography, but ive been stuck in a slump of softcore pornography and masturbation for about 2 years. I dont know what to do at this point. I feel helpless and lately I've been unfortunately developing the habit of masturbating until climax. I feel like such a failure, its so hard. I'm someone who never asks people for help and guidance, but with years of failure I've gone to where I never thought I would. I dont know what to do anymore. How can I stop failing! I have all the filters set in place not to watch inappropriate content and still live a semi modern life, and still I bypass the filters and go back to breaking my good habits. I'm desperate for help. Thank you.

Hey I'm struggling too. Similar situation as well. I may not believe in myself so much but I do believe in you! You CAN do it. I wish I had more to offer but being consistent on this platform is a great way to start. Hatzlacha!!

Yolk-welcome to the neighborhood.! :-) do you have accountability software like webchaver on your devices? It's been a game changer for me. Filters are a great start, but we're not enough for me. I've found webchaver very helpful. Highly recommended

I just signed onto Webchaver and am looking for Chaverim to hold me accountable. Who can I look to? Thank you.
