

i got a job

Posted by easy - 18 Aug 2025 13:27

Good morning, i recently got a job that i need a computer for and Bezras Hashem will be on here more often. in the past i have basically stopped coming on here due to the fact that i would frequently view ads for lingerie or just zone out with non helpful websites for the hour and a half i allowed on my filters timer. Thank God i have been working for over a week and have not used my computer to lust. i am in SA my M.O.s are porn, maturation, fantasy, and related to that is all forms of escape, anything to get me out of my Head. My marriage has been very rocky but we are starting to come together and communicate. i have stayed in touch with GYE through getting the emails of the forum. and no my name is not a reflection of the hardness of this challenge.

I was going to update my clock but it wont let me report a fall over a month ago. i am "sexually sober" since around 6/10/2025.

Good Morning Easy!

Great to have another Tzadik in the family

70 days, that's no joke! You've got this by all means!!

I'm happy for your new job and wishing you lots of success!
