Hello,

After being in denial for so long I have finally come to admit to myself that I am an addict. I am determined to stop, but I need help. I hope to find that help in this community of people looking to become more pure. My epiphany occurred when In a rage I threw my laptop out the third floor window of my apartment building. I am sickened by myself. Of course as an addict I found means with which to procure the lust I so deeply craved. I went without acting out for three and a half weeks and than I drowned again. I know I can succeed and I need help.....

Thanks for this beautiful place. I know I can win and change my life for the better.

Dear Zalman Dovid, This board is for introducing yourself. You are already well on the way! So I split your thread and sent it over to the "Wall of Honor" board. I called it "Zalman Dovi's Journey"...

May Hashem be with you till 120!
