hello??

hello??

anyone else in here?

its lonely in here ...

I feel all alone.

but then I noticed inside the word "lonely"

is the Absolute ONE...

maybe I am not so alone after all..

maybe I can climb out of this cold dark pit... and back into the Light...

hmmmm....maybe I got LOST - so that I could FIND myself!!!

yea - I think that is it...

you know, all of a sudden I no longer want to be alone any more.

If my friend Bard was here - I'd give him a L'chaim!!

I think I'll climb out - and go meet him at the pub....

up, up up .. here I come...

...and if you happen to be alone

and you don't notice the one that is with you in alone...

...then try to remember that the letters of alone also spell e-loan

Your soul is only yours on loan

One day you will yet have to return the loan

{Is that why the Neshama is called 'Yechida' in kabalistic terms?}

And if it is an interest bearing loan

Remember how the Torah compares interest to a snake bite,

The venom enters from a bite all the way down at the ankle & begins to spread,
before you know it, it was carried by the bloodstream throughout the victims's body.

Just a 'little' bit of internet venom will spread quickly & infect the body & soul.

Hey beReal,

Seems like the test worked. Why not tell us about your struggle a little. We're a lovely bunch of friends to have :D
