

Hello from Blind Beggar

Posted by Blind Beggar - 28 Aug 2010 21:19

Hello Tzaddikim! I just found this site last week. I think it is going to make my Rosh Hashono and Yom Kippur. I think the newness of the 90 day chart will get me 40 clean days to Shemini Atzeres but I am afraid of what will happen next. Does anyone have any suggestions?

I have read enough of the forum to see that you are all tzaddikim and all serving Hashem every day clean and again after every fall.

The holy Baal Shem Tov taught that the yetzer horo is more interested in the post-sin depression than in the sin itself.

Blind Beggar who wants to have eyes only for Hashem.

Fabulous idea.

Please, Hashem. Can you beam me up to the 'enterprise'? Just for today?

Ein Mafligin B'Sfina Gimmel Yomim Kodem HaShabbos.

Time is running out, you better leave now. And you'd have to be meikel, one kichsaa says Tuesday.

the kichsaa attacks again!

Someone PLEASE tell me what a kichsaa is, now that I'm being quoted as having said it.

There's this thing on the site that changes "4 letter words" to other words. So if the word you typed contains a particular 4 letter string it goes weird. Like this "A Poshiter Yid". Just one of the many fun things around here.

in other words " a p o s h i t e r yid" becomes "a pokichsaer yid"

I would like to give that a try:

A poshiter yid!

Sober for 465 days, boruch Hashem.

I haven't had tashmish for 2 months because we had a baby and there is nothing on the horizon for another few weeks. Guess what I find myself fantasizing about. So far on top of things.

Constant vigilance!

And guess by which Rebbe the pokichsaer yid hangs around - the Ropshitzer Rebbe, of course (TZ made me aware of that heilige Rebbe).

I start my mornings by renouncing my right to fantasize (even, or especially, about my wife). This helps me when an obtrusive thought comes to say "I'm not entitled to entertain this thought so it may as well go away".

Hatzlocho,

Mottel

For some reason I find this extremely funny.

Thanks, I really needed that!

me too!

one of my heartiest laughs on the forum was the first time i saw that happen and someone explained it to me.

makes me think of the days of "Rage"

is that ok to mention?

:-X

It just so happens that I speak to Rage every few months. He is really a special person...definitely different...as you remember, :o apparently.
