I just found out about this amazing website. I've been struggling with this for almost 20 years. I've tried everything except for the most important. Admitting defeat. A therapist finally convinced me. Its such a good feeling to be able to share. I've got a streak going on now. I would love to join a SA phone conference but I have a dilemma. The only available time for me is between 8:00pm and 9:00 pm EST and on Sundays after 3:30 pm. If someone could help me with that I would really appreciate that.
