

Mikveh or not

Posted by frumfiend - 28 Mar 2010 13:16

Here's a very interesting question. After being nichshol should I go to the mikveh? Having to go to the mikveh makes me feel dirty and that something bad happened. On the other hand when I go to the mikvah I feel cleansed Achla umachta es piha vamru lo poalti oven.

=====
=====

Re: Mikveh or not

Posted by mr. emunah - 05 Nov 2012 21:40

hey dove,

it's not b/c i know what happens when i don't mik, rather i just don't feel right (something akin to what one might feel going without a kapple?)

Peace brother, and may we soon be zoche to the coming of the 45th president.

Amen

he's a mormon... (MORMON? R U KIDDIN' ME? Obama's only a pinko yellowbellied socialist!)

=====
=====

Re: Mikveh or not

Posted by Dov - 06 Nov 2012 18:21

mr. wrote on 05 Nov 2012 21:40:

hey dove,

it's not b/c i know what happens when i don't mik, rather i just don't feel right (something akin to what one might feel going without a kapple?)

That is exactly how I feel about mikkie! We are like twin brothers!

...do you have a mole on your left knee and....oh, never mind.

Actually, I have arrived at the place that going to the mikkie is not something to fix myself for me at all, but a way to look prettier for Hashem. A present to him just to make nachas ruach. I believe this is more right w/the Torah and reality.

=====
=====

Re: Mikveh or not

Posted by mr. emunah - 06 Nov 2012 19:17

dov wrote on 06 Nov 2012 18:21:

hey dove,

it's not b/c i know what happens when i don't mik, rather i just don't feel right (something akin to what one might feel going without a kapple?)

That is exactly how I feel about mikkie! We are like twin brothers!

...do you have a mole on your left knee and....oh, never mind.

Actually, I have arrived at the place that going to the mikkie is not something to fix myself for me at all, but a way to look prettier for Hashem. A present to him just to make nachas ruach. I believe this is more right w/the Torah and reality.

Mik is also prety darn geshmak!

5:30 am . dark as hades. alarm clock rings . get up. (YAH) wash nailwater. wake up havruta.

don plaid scarve and step out intp the icy darkness as the stars twinkle brightly. (with any luck there will be a steady snow) walk briskly to the....

MIK! it is warm and inviting, I shower away the impurities of the night, scrub my movember mustache with head and shoulders.

I quickly slip into the ROASTING HOT MIK! FEEL THE HUGS AHHHHHHHHHHH! God must really love me - this ROCKS!

I toivel away the yetse hara

I toivel away all the Z"l of the bygone years

I toivel away myself

I toivel the love of God onto me

I exit the waters and get a quick rub down with my plush fuul size towel

taking care to dry between my toes

I come to beth midrashce

my havrut is ready and waiting

I make a beautiful roasty toasty steaming cup of coffe and proceed to Hack shtikker ith my havrut until the day has dawned.

AH!

THAT is the way i relate to mik.

but remember it's more of a cookies and milk type of relationship

(it doesn't hurt that I know that the big Rabs and Kabs say it's a great thing to do)

Sure beats acting out, no?

=====
=====

Re: Mikveh or not

Posted by Dov - 07 Nov 2012 04:54

Yes it does! I relate absolutely, chabibi!

=====
=====

Re: Mikveh or not
Posted by markz - 07 Feb 2016 03:32

bump

=====
=====