

The Agudah convention

Posted by the.guard - 26 Nov 2009 22:26

If you'll be by the Agudah convention - especially by the session called "Tangled in the Web", please print out flyers and leave them there!

Black & White / Color

Here's a high resolution ad

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by Kollel Guy - 23 Dec 2009 22:24

WOW GUE in Agudah!!!

I think I'm going to bring a L'Chaim to kollel tomorrow to celebrate!!

This is nothing other than H-shem's way of telling us "I still love you guys"

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by the.guard - 24 Dec 2009 00:10

Dov, this post of yours is perhaps the most precious I have ever read. :(:(:(

I am printing it out and hanging it on my wall.

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by bardichev - 24 Dec 2009 04:43

No offense to anyone including myself

DOV=REBBEREBER IS THE MOST SANE PERSON HERE!!

Yes there will be a certain "geshmakk" when GUE becomes as household name as tomchei shabbos etc.

But if we don't continue working on ourselves we will have nothing to feel "geshmakk" about

Rebbe is that what u were.

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by silentbattle - 24 Dec 2009 05:35

I'm going to start putting GUE on my "shema koleinu" list of things to daven for... THIS IS GREAT!!!

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by bardichev - 24 Dec 2009 05:53

I hit post too quick

(Shifted into highgear and this mack was chuggin away)

My question to you is if I was sayong what you are saying

Although you are "clinically sane" and I am cynically insane

(Ok slow down and click on post)

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by 7yipol - 24 Dec 2009 09:30

Not that R' Dov needs my haskama, but I agree that here in lies the most basic yesod in basically everything. Yidden are natural givers. We will donate time and money and everything in between if the cause touches our heart. We will give away our very souls. And thats where the problem lies.

Balance

balance

balance

Simply put - If youve made it onto the lifeboat and see others struggling to survive and reach it too, you have a few choices on how to react:

Sit tight and cheer him forward till he reaches you under his own steam.

Jump out of the boat, into the ocean in order to grab onto him and save him forgetting that you too can not swim

Remain safely seated, throw a rope towards him and gently pull him closer and into the boat.

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by the.guard - 24 Dec 2009 10:21

7Up wrote on 24 Dec 2009 09:30:

Simply put - If youve made it onto the lifeboat and see others struggling to survive and reach it too, you have a few choices on how to react:

Sit tight and cheer him forward till he reaches you under his own steam.

Jump out of the boat, into the ocean in order to grab onto him and save him forgetting that you too can not swim

Remain safely seated, throw a rope towards him and gently pull him closer and into the boat.

I think I'll use a helicopter instead, and pray that the sharks don't get me. (click here)

=====
=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by 7yipol - 24 Dec 2009 14:21

:O :O :O :O

YIKES!

=====

=====

Re: The Agudah convention
Posted by Dov - 24 Dec 2009 17:45

bardichev wrote on 24 Dec 2009 05:53:

I hit post too quick

(Shifted into highgear and this mack was chuggin away)

My question to you is if I was sayong what you are saying

Although you are "clinically sane" and I am cynically insane

(Ok slow down and click on post)

That's a great name for a book: "I'm Clinically sane, You're Clinically Sane"! ...rings a bell...

Yes, Rebbe b, that's exactly what i meant and thanks to you and 7-up, it's finally in English!

:D

=====

=====

Re: The Agudah convention
Posted by bardichev - 24 Dec 2009 19:22

What rabbienu dov is saying is azoi:

Saying run for life or keep on trucking is not enough

We need to run for our lives and KOT

Tricycle

Whatever

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by the.guard - 24 Dec 2009 21:37

So I spoke last night to Phillip Rosenthal for an hour and 20 minutes and told him all about GYE, past, present and future (big) plans... He will give it over to Rav Zweibel from the Agudah, as well as at the Torah Umesora convention in a few weeks IY"H... He asked me to send him the handbooks and a presentation I made once, and he wants to print out like 10 copies and distribute them to Rabbanim at these conventions...

He sounds like someone who would really be able to help us spread the word one day... With enough funds, I would hire him to travel the country giving seminars about our work at GYE... (He would do it. He is passionate about this stuff.)

If anyone wants me to send them a zip file with the handbooks and presentation to print out and/or show around to some wealthy friends or relatives that believe in this stuff, we would gladly e-mail it to you... Let me know.

Ending with a Teffilah... PLST and KKAT :'(

=====

Re: The Agudah convention

Posted by yechidah - 24 Dec 2009 21:56

Hatzlocha R Guard

may this be a springboard for many berachos to come and for many of our fellow Yidin to be helped

=====

Re: The Agudah convention
Posted by silentbattle - 25 Dec 2009 15:37

Amen!

=====

Re: The Agudah convention
Posted by the.guard - 27 Dec 2009 11:07

The latest e-mail from Phillip Rosenthal about the Agudah Midwest convention:

The session went great. I had started to go over on my time, so they cut me a bit short and I didn't get to say what I wanted about GYE. However, during the Q+A portion, I was able to push it in and even held up the handbook to show it as an example of what the program is all about.

I met with Rabbi Zweibel during Shalosh Seudos, and we discussed a number of things including GYE. He and I have agreed to meet in the next couple of weeks to talk more formally about setting up a formal program that would be offered to the membership of the Agudah. Of course all of that is conditional on the Moetzes Gedolei to approve it. Baby steps, my friend. Nothing will happen overnight.

Shavua Tov,

Philip

=====

=====