please print out flyers and leave them there!

Thank you, Habib, but almost anyone can do the same thing (I'm talking about men, of course).

I was so exhilarated by the conversation that I could hardly sleep last night!

And I too hope that this will lead to GYE being able to help many others.

Here is my follow-up letter to the Rosh Yeshiva:

Motzei Shabbos, 19 Kislev, 5770

December 6, 2009

Dear Rav , Shlita,

I am deeply grateful to the Rosh Yeshiva for giving me time last night to discuss "Guard Your Eyes," www.guardyoureyes.org, a vital resource for Frum people who have fallen prey to Internet pornography addiction. Also, thank you so much for agreeing to speak with and/or meet with the Guard Your Eyes administrator, a true Tzadik and Mezakeh HaRabbim, who has given up his Parnasa as a computer programmer in order to help people faced with what is likely the Nisayon of our generation.

Enclosed is my letter, which was published in the October 2009 issue of . Also enclosed is a full page ad that I placed in the November 2009 issue of  (a half page ad appears in the December 2009 issue).

If the Rosh Yeshiva knows of anyone who needs help in this area, they can contact me by e-mail at *****.

Sincerely and with great appreciation,

Kedusha, a huge yasher koach!

You really have reason to feel proud.

Gosh I want to be part of that meeting between Guard and the Rosh Yeshiva!

Maybe they need someone to represent the women?

Thank you, 7Up.

You'll be interested to know that the Rosh Yeshiva was not aware that this was an issue for women too. I explained that, although it may be much less common and the Halachic ramifications are different for women, it can still become an addiction for some and, for this reason, GYE has an Ezras Nashim.

Personally, I really want to see GYE get a spousal support forum going some day.

And that would definitely mean women.

As you yourself once explained to soemone,

for women its more an emotional need than simple lust.

So, do I get to come to the meeting Guard?

Yes, if I get to bring the fly swatter.

That's mean. Sorry. :-[

I don't know if I will be meeting him in person. I think the phone might be sufficient. (I don't do very many "in person" GYE meetings. The Satan has a whole undercover mafia trying to figure out who I am ;D)

Hard to believe. Who would want to know who you are anyway? :o

If this Rosh Yeshiva would agree to write a letter of Haskama, I think it would be a huge breakthrough for GYE. Maybe that can be accomplished without meeting him in person, maybe not. But we should make sure not to squander the opportunity.
