shiur from R' Bentzion Twersky

www.torahmedia.com/search/fileinfo.php?sid=l89mh53204i043s&cid=&directlink=29692&frompage=

All the tricks to guarding our eyes are great (like on this page). They can and do work. But they can still take a lot out of you. There's a constant struggle, sometimes you win and sometimes you lose (even if you don't act out) and it's very draining. Instead, in this amazing shiur from R' Bentzion Twersky, he says that the long term answer is to address the root cause, which is to change your character so that this is not something you want. If you don't want it, you won't see it (he gives a mashal for this – listen to the shiur!).

You address the root cause by focusing on what you want instead (hopefully Torah and a connection to Hashem) and as you work on that you will slowly become that. It's a lofty goal but in the long run, it will put you in a different place entirely and all these strategies will become unnecessary. And lofty goals are achieved step by step, one day at a time, as we know. So start today!

Just wanted to post a link here to a fantastic lecture serious from Rabbi Moshe Wolfson, mashgiach of Yeshivas Torah Vdas and Rav of the famous Emunas Yisroel shul in Boro Park.

Rabbi Wolfson has been lecturing on the topic of emunah for many years as this subject has been the focal point of his hashkafas ha'chaim.

Engendering a deep and lasting emunah in Hashem is a crucial aspect of any recovery whether it be 12 step based or not.

In my opinion, these lectures are worth their weight in gold.
