PETITION for more Recent Topics on the Home Screen

SIGN THE PETITION

Does anyone else feel like 6 recent topics is not enough for the home page?

Seriously, how many of you out there go through the extra 2 clicks and wait for 2 different pages to load, in order to see the full list of recent topics on the forums?

All too often important posts are not responded to, because they are not SEEN long enough.

Lets raise our voices together to make GYE great again!!!

All in favor of a longer list of Recent Topics on the home page say AYE!!!

I'll start...

Why don't you just go to the recent posts?

I know I can, but who says anyone else will? Again, my feeling is most people only see the top 6 recent threads that are on the home page...

Agree.

Home screen should show more threads.

Or no threads, which makes people have to click on the forum to enter it and see all threads.

bump. How's anyone supposed to sign if they can't see it?? It wasn't even on page 1 of the recent topics - there were more than 20 threads posted to today...

I'm not sure why you're asking that

The homepage doesn't even look like a homepage, and I did request some change, which may or may not help recent topics.

Why do you think that's where people go for the latest posts?

Many of us go to recent posts.

If the recent posts list is too short for you, try this guardyoureyes.com/forum/recent/recent-posts?limit=120&start=0

If your looking to improve GYE, just send them an Email with your idea.

For all technical support:help@guardyoureyes.org

?They are glad to hear improve an repair.

I have done it the past, some things were added and some were denied.

Yeah I tried & was denied, that's why I started this thread...

Apparently not many others share my concerns. Or the Russians are hacking into the site...
Either way, I just bookmarked the recent threads page, & I'd encourage others to do the same, if they don't wanna miss any of the excitement here...
