try the mirror in your bathroom. If it isn't too steamed-up, you should be able to get the monkey pick.... as for the other ones, It's too coplicated to upload anything on these computer terminals. Possible, but it requires alot of work.

Just look at that dog! To really connect to jeishu it takes a keen understanding of his true feelings and intellect. As you can see, a dog is simply more naturally attuned to such deep forms of meditation. Wouldn't you call that an emeseh tefillah!

I can just hear his slow panting slobber, "Wroof! I want a squicky toy, a really loud and obnoxious one, so all those humans will hear me every time I have to play with myself. And I want it colorful!! What dogs have little sense of color? so then give me colored sight also!! Sheesh you figure that if 1.2 billion people pray to you, you'd have a little more brains than me...and I'm a dog!"

The fish gives new meaning to a mazal TOV. Especially during the month of adar (dagim...get it?)

Oh and Rage, the tiger shark is for you

And I know this may make me sound like a girl...but the dog is just realy cute! He makes me smile every time I look at him.....awwwwwwww
