

How Will They Know When You Die (after 120)?

Dear Kehilla Kedosha,

I think it's time to bring this topic up.

The terrible question is, how will they know on GYE if someone has died after 120?

What are we gonna do when someone really popular suddenly disappears and stops posting (Lo Aleinu)? How will we know what actually happened?

I for one, wouldn't be able to stand the suspense...

There's got to be a way to solve such a problem.

Anyone have any ideas?

The previous Toldos Aharon Rebbe was actually quite makpid on the takannah. I know some "eltere bochurim" who were staying overnights in Bet Shemesh for that reason...

Look guys, this thread is getting very morbid.

Could y'all cut it out and get back to planning the next great GYE get together?

I was talking about a get together in EY.

Anyone from the government stopping you there?

Forget about after 120 what about now there are constantly people joining staying on for a little and then you dont hear from there for a while.Why dont we figure out how to keep track of them and then If we figure that out I am sure it will be quite easy to figure out how to keep track of physically dead people.What do you think?

That's why I said REAL life, not phone call life. You could also leave it in your will to announce on GYE that screenname is deceased. Or you could have your wife go on and announce it, if she knows your on here and your screen name.

Leave it in your will... Hmmmm.

That could be really cool actually. GYE would probably have a whole new section for dead people. We could have virtual matzeivos and stuff and we can post all their favorite jokes on them and make rhetorical comments 😊

We could also have an old man's forum. Wow, imagine all the crazy jokes on there. "Yankel, stop geshtelzeflopping on Bard's thread, he heard enough of you".

BTW, I love your links to the office home etc.
