

O'Mottel's Kitchen

Posted by obormottel - 02 Nov 2011 23:29

It seems that a lot of us here suffer from malnutrition, which tends to bring about depression and other machlas of the mind. I mean, how are you gonna feel good about yourself, when you're 30 pounds overweight, and you don't even have an excuse of a recent pregnancy?

So pile in, and if you're sick of cholint and kishke, I'll set you up with a nutritious meal that is inexpensive and good for you at the same.

Oh, and we do give out complimentary drink tickets to Bardy's Pub with each meal. You may have to check with Bards, though, if he'll honor them for anything other than a shot of Crapowitz.

forget the date-filled thingies- fill 'em with mustard.

Mustard isn't a bird," Alice remarked.

"Right, as usual," said the Duchess: "what a clear way you have of putting things!"

"It's a mineral, I think," said Alice.

"Of course it is," said the Duchess, who seemed ready to agree to everything that Alice said:" there's a large mustard-mine near here. And the moral of that is—"The more there is of mine, the less there is of yours."

"Oh, I know!" exclaimed Alice, who had not attended to this last remark. "It's a vegetable. It doesn't look like one, but it is."

-Lewis Carrol-Alice in Wonderland

Look Mottel I'm not sure what Mustard is, but it's definitely healthy, so can we have it in our hamentasches? pretty puhleeeeeeeeeeeeeez

I think ketchup is a vegetable, not mustard. But the Alice quote made me break my "no smile before dinner" vow. Oh well.

Why would you make such a vow? And in Adar it's "Nishba Levatel Es HaMitzva" and it's not even 'Chal". ;D

I read that recipe zemmy,

it had, in fact, a sort of mixed flavour of cherry-tart, custard, pine-apple, roast turkey, toffy, and hot buttered toast

Have a sober Shabbos, everybody!

I lost track of a friend who made a commitment to call me every day to report his sobriety status.

Rebdovid, come back!

Cookies and milk? I found some caramel-flavored bisquits in the local market. Delizioso!

Took my wife for a stroll in a cemetery, just looking for serenity in a quiet, non-triggering environment. Made her lunch:

Lox sandwich on whole wheat, with low-fat cream cheese, beefsteak tomatoes, capers, and red onions. Grilled vegetables on a side to aid in fiber intake. Very good, peaceful experience all around.

Started my day today with some herring in wine, saltine crackers, chummus, lox spread, and Irish Whisky. I have a yohrzeit in the family, so I brought the whisky, plus some spreads, crackers, and pickles to shul. They already had a spread of chummus and chocolate babkas laid out for an earlier minyan.

Who does that? The chummus and the sweet cakes, I mean?!

Oh, well, not every one can proudly call himself a foodie...

Gut Shabbos!

Sorry, Gevura, obber....what?!

Yeah, we have this real old, scenic cemetery in town, with wicked looking tombs, mausoleums, peacocks strolling, squirrels following you between the grave rows...real peaceful. Helps you put things into perspective of what's important in life, and how short life really is for most of us.

You should try it someday.

Hot oatmeal cereal for breakfast, anyone? With some buckwheat honey as sweetener?

I guess it depends...Motzo or Moitzei?
