

O'Mottel's Kitchen

Posted by obormottel - 02 Nov 2011 23:29

It seems that a lot of us here suffer from malnutrition, which tends to bring about depression and other machlas of the mind. I mean, how are you gonna feel good about yourself, when you're 30 pounds overweight, and you don't even have an excuse of a recent pregnancy?

So pile in, and if you're sick of cholint and kishke, I'll set you up with a nutritious meal that is inexpensive and good for you at the same.

Oh, and we do give out complimentary drink tickets to Bardy's Pub with each meal. You may have to check with Bards, though, if he'll honor them for anything other than a shot of Crapowitz.

TZ, when did you have time?

look i never listen to matisyahu with a beard or without, or to any goyishe music for that matter, but sitting in the kitchen supervising your mexican workers all day, sometimes burns songs into my subconscious y'know?

ain't no one not gon' break mah stride....

You're on the road and now you pray you'll last

The road behind you was rocky

Nobody's gonna slow me down

Oh no, I've got to keep on moving

Wild turkey is a good call, Zemmy. If it doesn't work, we'll try something else.

Ok, Erev Shabbos check list:

1. Vodka's in the freezer.
2. Cholint's on the blech.
3. Chalas are baked and chala is separated.
4. The seven-bean soup for Friday night - on the blech.
5. Brown rice stir-fry and chicken shnitzel on the bottom shelf in the oven.
6. Salads: Spinach/Strawberry with garlic aioli; Baby greens with almonds and balsamic vinaigrette; Four-bean; Spicy Carrot; Tomato/Red Onion/Kalamata olives; Olivier? maybe...
7. Check the vodka again, just to make sure no one was making room for icecream and left the bottle out.
8. Open wine bottles, mineral water bottles, tea bags, plastic flatware packages.
9. Almost forgot the fish: ~~gefilte fish~~, grilled trout, honey-glazed salmon.
10. Please make sure the vodka stays put in the freezer.

Gut Shabbos!

At what time in the day should the vodka enter the freezer?

Is chocolate off limits here? What about a sweet roll and a hot cup of coffee.

Is this this the diet part of the forum? If so, I'm outta here.

Thanks for keeping me smiling

I couldn't agree more!

Menachem, You're the man!

So then let's try this out ;-) (I'm on mobile)

So once there was a kitchen in Gye's corporate offices, it wasn't clear what the menu would be. And then Mottel disappeared!!!

Hmm, I wonder if this post will disappear too..... Hope not!
