The morning after the night before.

Never ask a blind beggar to lead you to a place that you have never been to before, if an old friend hadn't come out we would still be wandering the streets of Torah Town.

It was great to meet you, Shmiras and Tehillim Zegger. Guard was there in spirit and Ovadia was thousands of miles away, so he couldn't come.

It was a big chizuk to meet fellow strugglers and users of the Forum and the Tools.

Thank you Shmiras the host and everyone who came.

The one practical thing that I have gained from the recent GYE kumzits is to start reading the Handbook. What do I see in Tool 2? The 3 Second Rule. What a great reminder. At work there are really only one or two triggery women on Sunday, so I can start the 3 Second Rule on them tomorrow before they all come back in force on Monday.

I'll keep y'all posted!

Do you feel that just being there and facing the reality of your struggle with others who struggle similarly was also a benefit?

I found that once I got to meet people face to face and really discuss my problem it really helped me. My sobriety since then has been more stable and I personally feel more at ease rather than whiteknuckling all the time. It also helped me have more toelles from when I would speak to guys on the phone.

You where much missed, your absence was sorely felt, it wan't the same without you, it could ahve been better if you where there, we kindly request that you would grace us with your presence next time (you can even bring a freind).

We learnt the handbook, shared personal stories, looked over ??? ???? ??' ? ? ? ? ? and found a new reason to work step 2.

I created 3 threads about this kumzits, in Brek Free, "Important" threads, and the Funnies.... and GUARD davka posted over here! You see what this means, even our valient leader has a sence of humor!

Wait, you didn't go?

oh yeh, the "upshering", how is he cute? Did you got him to all the gedolim? Roshei yeshivos? rebbehs? mekubalim? GYE members (being sober is also a madreiga of tzidkus, a higher one)....
