

2012

Although its not Rosh hashana. We are still allowed and encouraged to engage in thoughtful introspection at the beginning of the new secular year as anytime one reflects honestly on their deeds good will result. On that note May this be a year where the aboshter bathes you in woodford and showers you with cholent. May your home be as warm and comfortable as a possums den, and may all kickboxers be removed from your path.

And now let us say amen.

Nu,

May your drivetrain not break and may your tires always travel in the same direction as each other - Up and Over all obstacles.

Just don't smoke while you're doused in Woodford, then you will be a little too much "warmed up" :D

Which reminds me of one of my favorite lines:

"Give a man a fire and he will be warm for a day, set him on fire and he will be warm for the rest of his life."

If his words don't do the trick, I'm sure the woodford and cholint will Cholent shower! Brrrrrrrrrrrrrr!

Oh, wait, maybe he means today's cholent....

Happy new year!

When Der Eibershter sees the manner in which "they" celebrate their "new year" (with pritzus and hulelus etc) than even those Yidden who didn't daven well on Rosh Hashono are given a brocho for "gebenchter yohr". If this contrast with, l'havdil, goyim gets us a brocho, then a contrast with our "last year" selves should surely bring us an abundance of G-d's Grace.

Which is my wish to everyone.
